MATTISON B. JONES GETS HELP FROM LOCAL FRIENDS

Glendale People Meet and Form Organization for Aid of Candidate

A meeting was held by the supporters of Mattison B. Jones, Glendale resident, in his fight for the Democratic nomination for governor of California at the Glendale Union High school last night at 8 o'clock and an organization which will open campaign quarters here will have charge of promoting the campaign in the surrounding cities and towns throughout San Fernando valley, including Eagle Rock and other nearby points. Mr. Jones was unable to be present at the meeting last night.

The meeting was opened by Alex Mitchell, who spoke a few words in behalf of Mr. Jones, declaring him to be "all wool and a yard wide." A committee of five composed of Alex Mitchell, W. B. Kelly, Mrs. Marie Barkey, Dwight W. Stephenson and O. M. Newby was named to nominate the permanent officers of the Jones for Governor club in Glendale and after deliberating the following names were brought in: President, Ray L. Morrow; first vice president, Mrs. Colin Cable; secretary, Mrs. Sidney V. Bell, and treasurer, Ralph E. Barry.

Make Campaign Plans

In addition to these officers a committee of between twenty-five and fifty were named as additional vice presidents. Following the approval by the meeting of the officers selected. President Morrow took the chair and the work of naming sub-committees began.

An executive committee to be composed of the president, vice president, secretary and treasurer with three additional appointments to be made by the president later was proposed and adopted.

Col. Tom C. Thornton was named as chairman of the finance committee and he will be assisted by W. B. Kirk and a member to be named by Col. Thornton himself. This committee has also been named to secure suitable headquarters here to conduct the campaign. Alex Mitchell was named as chairman of the organization committee and he is to appoint two others to assist him to look after the organizing of

Marriage Ceremony Is Performed Here

The home of Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Norton of 801 East Wilson avenue was the scene of a quiet wedding on Sunday afternoon when Mrs. Carol E. Gulvin of Long Beach became the bride of Charles C. Thompson, also of the beach city. Rev. Norton was chosen to officiate through the fact that Mrs. Gulvin was formerly a charter member of the First Methodist church of this city, of which Rev. Norton was the founder.

According to the bride's request the only decorations for the occasion consisted of a large American flag spread majestically across one end of the room. Mrs. Gulvin was formerly a member of the local organization of the Women's Relief Corps and places the flag of her country above everything else.

Following the ceremony, which was conducted in the simple ring service, the small crowd of relatives and friends present enjoyed a reception, at which refreshments were served by Mrs. Norton and her daughter, Mrs. Corinne Jones. The bride and groom then left for their new home in Long Beach.

Those present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gulvin of Long Beach, Mr. Gulvin being the son of the bride; her daughter, Mrs. Edna Robinson of Alhambra; her sister, Mrs. Ericson of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Claud Hilliard and daughter, Phyllis of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Corinne Jones of this city.

Mrs. Thompson is well known to many of the "old time" residents of this city, she having lived here more than twelve years. She is the daughter of Thomas Gillette of 212 West Cypress street, whose illness kept him from attending the wedding.

Tuesday Club Plans To Have Concession

A meeting of a special committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club is being held this afternoon at the home of Mrs A. H. Montgomery, 415 South Central avenue.

The purpose of the meeting is to complete plans for a concession which is to be conducted at the opening of the new city park in Verdugo Canyon August 16 under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Sargent of the literary section and Mrs. B. O. Holbrook of the legislative section where cooked foods will be dispensed for the building fund of the club.

A special sale is also planned at Pendroy's dry goods store on August 15, a certain percentage of which will be given as Mr. Pendroy's contribution to the building fund.

Did You Vote for Abraham Lincoln? Tell Us About it!

Even if the coming election isn't national in its purpose and effect, nevertheless it, like all elections, brings home the fact that we're all living in the "home of the brave and the land of the free" and that the indoor sport of voting has been going on in the United States for over a century.

The various elections have associated with them the names of great Americans and just where you voted for Lincoln or Roosevelt will always remain a vivid picture in your mind, whether you marked your ballot in a livery stable or modern bank building.

Most of us are comparatively new at the sport of voting. However, there are those who recall the interesting experience of having cast their ballots for Abraham Lincoln and The Glendale Evening News is asking them to jot their names down, together with the names of their home states, and if they ever saw or met the great Emancipator, an accompanying sketch of the event would be welcome.

Why not reminisce through the columns of The Evening News?

CITY PLUNGE WILL PROVE POPULAR SPOT, BELIEF

Several Hundred Persons to Visit Municipal Pool Daily, Is Expected

Well, folks, you don't need to put off that bath any longer!

Mayor Spencer Robinson yesterday paid an official visit of inspection to the new municipal bathhouse and, in behalf of the city administration, formally approved its opening.

Several hundred people a day are expected to disport themselves in the 90,000 gallons of water contained in the plunge which is 30 by 90 feet in size and ranges in depth from 2½ feet at the west end where there are semi-circular steps at each corner leading into the water to a depth of nine feet at the east and where iron ladders lead into the water.

Roy Biddlecom, manager of the plunge, and George Shell, assistant manager, were busy this morning supervising the cleaning of the plunge. To prevent accidents, the bottom of the pool is rough concrete so that there is no possibility of bathers slipping upon it.

Councilman Objects

Councilman C. E. Kimlin, who heard for the first time recently that all men and boys were expected to dress in a room 20 by 24 feet in size and that all women and girls were expected to don their bathing suits in another room of about the same size, is somewhat displeased as he does not believe this arrangement will meet with the approval of the patrons of the establishment. He thinks that it will be necessary for private rooms to be built before another season.

The bathhouse itself is one story in heighth and follows a Spanish type of architecture. It is built in the form of an L, about two sides of the pool, and one wing contains the quarters for the women and the other the quarters for the men

The laundry is equipped with all necessary apparatus for disinfecting and drying the bathing suits and towels. The hot water tank will hold 102 gallons of water. Besides a large power washing machine, there is a centrifugal dryer. Electricity is furnished through a three horsepower motor.

A first aid room is another feature of the establishment. Although no casualties are expected, it was thought best to have a room fitted up for the care of minor injuries. This room contains a medicine cabinet and sanitary cot.

Exercises of Bible School Pupils Tonight

The last session of the daily vacation Bible school was held at the Presbyterian church this morning. The school has been in session for four weeks and has been in charge of Miss Anita Fletcher who is director of religious education at the local church.

This evening at 7:30 graduation exercises will be held at the church and recognition will be given to all those pupils of the daily vacation Bible school who have satisfactorily completed a prescribed course of study during the present session.

The gathering this evening will be an exhibition of work done by the school and an entertainment showing the work of a day of the school in actual session. The parents of the children are showing great interest in the gathering this evening. This entertainment is open to all. There will be no admission but there will be a free will offering to defray the expenses of the school.

THIRTY YEARS OF SERVICE IN CHINA MISSION WORK

Miss Kate Ogborn Is Here on Visit; Proposes to Return to Duties

Thirty years of service as a Methodist missionary in China is the record of Miss Kate Ogborn, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. F. J. Noel, at 465 West Windsor road, prior to leaving early in September to resume her activities in China. Miss Ogborn, who has been in the United States on a year's furlough, has been spending several months with another sister in their old home in Iowa.

Miss Ogborn's work and experiences in China have been most interesting. Her posts have been on and near the Yangtse Kiang river, and when she went to China thirty years ago there were no railroads or postal service and methods of travel and communication were of the crudest types

"It's a wonderfully interesting country," says Miss Ogborn, "and a country in which the American people should be vitally interested. The future of China is of great importance to world affairs and particularly of importance to the United Statse."

Birthday Party Is Held at Mitchell's

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell of 2001 Kenneth road was the scene of a very pretty lawn party last night, plans for the affair being carried out as a complete surprise for their son, Gilbert, who was celebrating his birthday anniversary. Wires for lighting had been placed in the shrubbery in the spacious grounds which formed a lovely setting for the happy throng, engaged in informal dancing, on the greensward with music indoors. The lights under one large pepper tree whose branches sweep the ground, gave one the feeling that he was exploring a magic cave in fairyland.

A second surprise for the honoree was a beautiful birthday cake, with decorations of pink and white, which was served with other dainty refreshments at the close of the very delightful evening. Those present were the Misses Mary Sherrick, Mildred Stanford, Geraldine Woolard, Beth Vorwork, Carita Conner, Helen Anchor, Zelma Bunting; Burdette and Howard Rockhold, Frank England, Albert Townsend, Frank Balthis, Roy Weetman, Fred Conner, Johnny Richardson, Marvin Bunting, Welling Hollitt, Othmore Hynes; Mrs. Waldron of Salt Lake city, the house guest of Mrs. Mitchell; Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell. The lighting effects were arranged by George Mitchell, and Mrs. Mitchell was assisted by Miss Zelma Bunting.

C. of C. Directors to Enjoy Beefsteak

A beefsteak dinner with real beefsteak has been promised the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce tonight by Daniel Campbell of North Glendale, who will be their host.

In anticipation, the regular weekly luncheon in the banquet room of the Citizens' building has been abandoned and those who have been invited to the affair are reported to be storing up an excellent appetite.

Guests of the evening, however, have been warned that they will be expected to wash the dishes. The meal is to be provided at Mr. Campbell's expense.

A report in regard to the new hotel is scheduled to be rendered by Mrs. Mabel L. Tight of 612 East Broadway, chairman of the hotel committee of the East Glendale Advancement association.

Matters of community interest will be brought out by Dr. Jessie Russell of 208 South Brand boulevard, chairman of the civics committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Directors, who are expected to attend the dinner, are V. M. Hollister, R. D. White, C. E. Kimlin, Jesse Smith, David L. Gregg, J. A. Newton and Peter Ferry. Miss Bessie Hale will be present to take notes on the beefsteak and the proceedings. Assistant Secretary E. F. Sanders will be among those present, also.

Stabbed To Death

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 1.—Ben Strother, brother of Sam B. Strother, former mayor of Kansas City, stabbed and killed P. J. Quinn, an oil salesman, here today. The stabbing climaxed weeks of argument over the payment of a small bill. The slaying occurred when the two men met in front of Quinn's home. Police said Strother had been drinking. Strother refused to make a statement.

Captured By Posse

FRESNO, Aug. 1.—Posses today captured the second of three youths sought in connection with the slaying of Police Sergeant James Hardenbrook, who was shot to death early yesterday. Chester Boyd was arrested near Kingsburg. Leverall Clark was already in custody and is said to have confessed that Frank Stone, the third one sought, fired the shot which killed the officer. Posses are close on Stone's trail.

Refuse Harding Plan

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—A spokesman for the railroads announced shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon that the Association of Railway Executives had dispatched to the White House a long and reasoned reply to the President Harding peace formula for ending the shopmen's strike, which refused to accept the plan as a whole, but contains an indication of a willingness to make certain concessions.

Quick Action Halts Business Block Fire

Starting when gasoline was spilled onto a burning gas stove, fire about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon created some excitement at the office of Hamlin & Hepburn, realtors at 203 West Broadway.

Quick action by the fire department under the direction of Fire Chief A. H. Lankford and Capt. R. E. Dodsworth prevented the fire from reaching serious proportions. Due to the fast run and immediate extinguishing of the flames, the resulting damage was slight and is said to be covered by insurance.

The rear of the Hamlin & Hepburn office, separated by a half partition from the front, is devoted to the manufacture of small transformers for radio apparatus. Yesterday a gallon of gasoline was purchased to be used in cleaning some of the materials, and some of it was spilled on the stove. Bursting into flame, it ignited a pot of melted paraffine which is used in the manufacture of the transformer coils.

With both chemicals and water, firemen soon extinguished the flames. The principal damage, so far as could be ascertained, was the smoking up of the office walls, minor water damage, and the scorching of some automobile tires and other stock in the stockroom of the Ralphs Grocery.

Little Child Brings Parents Together

Two-year-old golden-haired La Verne Hanson has effected the reconciliation of her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hanson of 521 West Doran street, whose divorce proceedings yesterday were dropped by mutual consent.

After having been married three years, Mrs. Ruth Hanson became dissatisfied when requested to live in an unfinished bungalow and filed suit against her husband.

Mr. Hanson is alleged to have retorted that it would be a fine thing if his wife would go to work and share some of the expenses "like a twentieth century girl."

Judge Victor R. McLucas several weeks ago deferred the hearing and requested Attorneys James F. McBryde and Attorney W. Claire Anspach, of 111 East Broadway, who represented Mrs. Hanson, and Attorney Charles C. Caswell of Los Angeles, who represented Mr. Hanson, to exert every possible effort to conciliate the couple for the sake of the child. This was done and the family is united once more

SEARCH FOR BODIES

Mrs. C. H. Rushworth has reported the theft of sixty feet of hose and a sprayer from her lawn at 445 West Garfield street.

110 PER CENT NET GAIN IN CHURCH MEMBERSHIP

Pacific Avenue Methodists Show Remarkable Growth During Past Year

With a 110 per cent gain in membership in the past year, the Pacific Avenue Methodist church in Glendale has the greatest gain of any church in the fourth quarterly conference of the Pasadena district, according to reports made at the last quarterly conference held at the church last night.

Dr. W. L. Y. Davis, superintendent of the Pasadena district of the church, presided at the meeting at which reports for the year were made public.

After the conference had been opened with song, Rev. Harley G. Preston, pastor of the church, led in prayer. Dr. Davis then gave a devotional address.

Officers Selected

The business session then began. Officers for the church, to serve during the coming church years, were elected.

Reports were heard from the Sunday school, Epworth league, Brotherhood, Ladies' Aid, J. O. C. class, Foreign and Home Missionary societies, treasurer and pastor. All the organizations showed an appreciable increase in membership and attendance, and treasurers' reports showed a marked increase in receipts.

In his report, Rev. Preston summed up the work of the past year, and his aspiration for the future.

"We have endeavored to link this church up with the community life of our city," he stated. "Although we are still in the cradle we are healthy and strong and are being heard from. I dare say that this church has been second to none in the amount of publicity accorded to it during the past year. We are very grateful to The Glendale Evening News for the space which we have received from time to time through their kindness.

Thanks Expressed

"The people of this church have done well. The pastor wishes to express his sincere appreciation for the fine support they have given him in his program. Much good work, with your splendid cooperation, has been accomplished. There is much more to be done. May God bless you the coming year."

Rev. Preston thanked the church treasurer, Harold Adams, and the leaders of the various societies for their work, and expressed his appreciation of the support of Dr. W. W. Cookman, pastor of the church for three years previous to Rev. Preston's coming. Dr. Cookman responded with praise for the work of the present pastor.

A unanimous vote in favor of the return of Rev. Preston for another year was taken, and the annual conference, which is to be held in Fresno in October, was announced.

Mayor Robinson to Quit Moore's Club

Spencer Robinson, mayor of the city of Glendale, says he will not be president of the Charles C. Moore for Senator Club of Glendale.

During the mayor's absence from the city, he was selected to head the political organization. When he returned home he announced that he intended to resign the presidency of the club at once. It is reported that he is preparing his resignation on the ground that he is "too busy to act" at the head of the Moore organization.

It is also reported that Mayor Robinson will campaign with Mattison B. Jones of Glendale The latter seeks the Democratic nomination for governor. The mayor also plans to have Mr. Jones address the big community gathering to be held August 16 at the opening of the city's new park in Verdugo Woodlands.

Realtors of Three Cities Will Meet

The members of the Glendale Realty board, of which Cameron D. Thom is president, have invited the members of the Burbank and Eagle Rock boards to meet with them at their regular session at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium tomorrow noon. The purpose of the meeting is to give an opportunity for matters of common interest to be discussed and problems worked out for general betterment. A. M. Yale is chairman of the committee in charge of the consolidation program.

Little Girl's Leg Broken In Crash

Patricia Doye, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doye of 341½ Ivy street and who received a broken leg when struck by an automobile near her home Sunday afternoon, is resting easily. The child got in the path of an approaching machine, which, in endeavoring to avoid hitting her, collided with a machine parked on the opposite side of the street, it is stated.

Two nurses were overcome by smoke during their work of saving the patients. The inmates were being served breakfast when the fire brke out. The origin was not determined.

GREAT BRITAIN MUST PAY WAR DEBT TO AMERICA

LONDON, Aug. 1.—That the United States requires payment of the $4,277,000,000 loaned to Great Britain by America in war time within the next twenty-five years was revealed this afternoon when the text of the debt note which Great Britain has sent to the allied powers, was made public. "Great Britain does not make any complaint over the attitude of the United States in insisting upon payment," said the document. "Great Britain recognizes the obligation and is prepared to fulfill it." The note then pointed out that Great Britain's credits cannot be left in abeyance but expressed reluctance that she is compelled to adopt this policy.

HOOVER PRESENTS HARDING'S PLAN TO RAILROADS

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—President Harding's plan for adjustment of the railway shopmen's strike was presented to the presidents of the 148 railroads of the country here this afternoon by Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce. Admitted to the great high ceiling board room of the New Haven railroad in Grand Central terminal building after the executives had been in session a bare half hour, the secretary is understood to have spent twenty minutes in an outline of the Harding formula for strike settlement. A burst of applause greeted the conclusion of Hoover's brief business-like talk. He left the board room immediately. A few minutes later, at 11:35, the executives themselves came out. It was announced that no decision had been reached and that the executives are to resume their session this afternoon to debate the president's proposals.

TEN KILLED BY COLLISION OF TRAINS IN OHIO

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 1.—Ten persons were killed and twenty-five injured more or less seriously at 11 o'clock this morning, when two Cincinnati, Lebanon & Northern passenger trains crashed together head-on at the Lester road crossing at Pleasant Ridge. One of the engines was driven backwards, telescoping the first coach behind it and killing every one inside. All available fire apparatus in the city has been rushed to the scene as well as police patrols and hospital ambulances from all the hospitals. Fifty private automobiles are also at the scene assisting in the rescue work. Doctors from all over Cincinnati are being rushed to the spot. There were five passenger coaches in one train and two in the other, but only one car telescoped when the crash came. This coach crumbled up like a match box and the occupants were caught in the wreckage which presented an almost hopeless tangle to rescue workers. It is thought the engineers and firemen for the two engines were killed in the collision, though information at this time regarding them is not available.

MISSOURI PRIMARY ELECTION BEING HELD TODAY

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 1.—Sentiment of Missouri Democracy as it regards the national policies of its party was to be voiced in the state-wide primary being held today. The real issue which caused an evident throb in the breast of the state and nation was being put to the test. The issue—League of Nations—was before the voter. The stand of United States Senator James A. Reed in championing the fight against Woodrow Wilson and alignment with other nations of the world in an association aimed to preserve international peace was to be approved or renounced. The fiery Missouri senator was being opposed by Breckenridge Long of St. Louis, who fought Reed and the policies he has supported in the senate. Long, in his campaign, revived the League of Nations issue which has been sidetracked the past two years, and charged Reed with being "unfaithful" to the Democratic party. Senator Reed announced that he is ready to receive the decision of the voters. Edward A. Glenn, his campaign manager, predicted today that Reed would sweep the state by 100,000 plurality.

40 INVALID PILGRIMS ON WAY TO SHRINE KILLED

PARIS, Aug. 1.—Forty religious pilgrims bound from the famous shrine of the Grotto de Lourdes, were killed today in a collision of two trains. Fifty-two others were injured. The disaster occurred near Tarles. The shrine of Lourdes, a Catholic institution, is the most famous of its kind in the world, and is daily visited by pilgrims from all parts of the world. The train containing the pilgrims was unable to climb a grade between Millau and Villecomtal. It began sliding backwards, gaining great speed as it whirled down the incline. It crashed into another train that was ascending the same grade. The disaster occurred in the darkness about 3 o'clock this morning. Immediately after the crash assistance was rushed to the scene. Some of the victims were immediately crippled and were on their way to the shrine in the hope of obtaining physical as well as spiritual relief. A high official of the Midi railway told the International News Service this afternoon that there were no Americans on the wrecked train. Later details said that some of the pilgrims were blind, others deaf and dumb, and still others were so crippled they had to be carried. Priests among the crowd helped in the rescue work.

LOCAL MERCHANTS PROPOSE TO WAR ON ITINERANTS

Traveling Agents Take Much Money Out of City, Is Report to Association

Itinerant salesmen, who visit the city to the disadvantage and loss of home merchants, furnished subject for live discussion at the regular meeting and luncheon of the Glendale Credit association Monday noon in the Chamber of Commerce hall.

"Traveling merchants" have been reaping great harvests in Glendale and neighboring cities and Frank H. Pilling, secretary of the Glendale Credit association, gave the startling report that one salesman of silk hose had sold $2,000 worth of goods in two days in Glendale. Another man, a tailor by trade, disposed of twenty-one suits.

"It is a serious matter," said Mr. Pilling, "and one we must take in hand. We must curb the activities and profits of these itinerants, but just how to do it is a problem. We will doubtless have to resort to a license system."

Discuss Picnic Plans

Another report of interest was with regard to the coming community picnic, August 16. Tentative plans for the affair were outlined, a partial list of prizes for entertainment and sport events read, and advertising solicited for the picnic programs.

Secretary Pilling is working out a most interesting program for the affair and the prize list when completed will be a tempting one.

During the after luncheon hour W. E. Harmuth, formerly manager of the Chamber of Commerce of Parsons, Kan., spoke, and also Don Webb, secretary of the Glendale Kiwanis club, who returned recently from the national Kiwanis gathering in Toronto.

City Manager William Reeves also spoke, urging the merchants to heartily support the Glendale Baseball club.

Brief accounts were also given of the success of the recent dollar day event, most of the merchants reporting most gratifying sales.

A letter was read from Mrs. Ed Nisle, expressing appreciation for the flowers the association sent Mr. Nisle, who has been ill but is now improving.

Association Badges

Following the custom of the Rotary club, Chamber of Commerce and other organizations, the Credit association members are to have badges, for identification at local meetings and conventions. The badge given unanimous sanction at the meeting yesterday will be a round, white celluloid button, two inches across, bearing the name of the wearer and Glendale Credit association in black letters.

'Jolly Twelve' Give Surprise on Mrs. Haw

Mrs. E. E. Haw of 425 West Wilson avenue was very pleasantly surprised Saturday night by the members of the circle called the "Jolly Twelve," who arrived at an early hour to assist in the celebration of her birthday anniversary. The surprise was complete, and a very happy evening passed with music and social pleasure. Mrs. Haw was the recipient of very beautiful bouquets of choice dahlias and gladioli, and a handsome birthday cake, which was served at the close of the evening, with other delicate refreshments. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Haw, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Boicourt, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Spickerman and Mrs. B. F. Geiger. The only member of the "Twelve" not present was B. F. Geiger, who is making an extended sojourn at his former home in Kansas.

Charles Toll and Family Plan Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Toll and family of 1635 Kenneth Road who had planned to leave today for a two months' tour of the east, have been detained, owing to word being received yesterday of the severe illness of Mr. Toll's sister, Miss Louise Toll of Balboa Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Toll and sons, Maynard and Carroll, will leave in the near future for Detroit, Mich., where they will be met by their son, Charles H. Toll, Jr. From that city they are planning to go by automobile on a tour of the eastern states. They will leave on their trip as soon as Miss Toll recovers.

Traeger Addresses Local Elks Lodge

Sheriff William "Bill" Traeger of Los Angeles county, a member of Los Angeles Lodge No. 99, B. P. O. E., made a short address at last night's weekly meeting of the Glendale Elks' lodge, his subject being "The Elks' Part in Community Service." Several other members of the Los Angeles lodge also made short talks during the meeting.

Following the session the members adjourned to the Jinx room, where a "feed" and a comedy moving picture were enjoyed.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE HONEYSUCKLE

"It is growing very big! Very big and tall and strong!" said Uncle Wiggily one day as he stood at the side of his hollow stump bungalow.

"What is growing very big and strong?" cried Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, who had been asleep on the porch. "Don't tell me it's the Fuzzy Fox or the Woozie Wolf who is growing big and strong!" she begged. "They are bad enough as it is!"

Nurse Jane was so frightened that her long tail curled up in a double bow-knot, and Uncle Wiggly laughed.

"Have no fears, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy," he said. "I was only speaking of my honeysuckle vine that is growing tall and big and strong on the side of my bungalow. It is climbing up to my bedroom window. Have no fears, Nurse Jane."

So Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy had no fears, and she walked around to the side of the bungalow where Uncle Wiggily stood looking at his honeysuckle vine.

As the bunny gentleman had said, the honeysuckle was certainly growing into a big vine. Uncle Wiggly had taken good care of it, giving it water to drink when the rain forgot to fall.

And the vine, being very thankful for this kind of care, had done its best. It twined and twisted itself up on the trellis which Uncle Wiggily had built for it, until the vine was almost like a ladder, reaching up to the bunny's second-story bedroom window. And now the blossoms were coming out, each one filled with honey, where the bees came to sip, for there was perfume in every flower.

Uncle Wiggily climbed down the honeysuckle vine.

"I love you, honeysuckle vine," said Uncle Wiggily, as his pink, twinkling nose smelled the sweet perfume.

"And I am glad to twine myself on your bungalow," whispered the honeysuckle. "You took good care of me, making a place for me to climb, and watering me when I was thirsty. I would like to do you a favor."

"Oh, nonsense!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Making a shade and giving off sweet perfume, as you do, is favor enough."

So Uncle Wiggily twinkled his pink nose and the honeysuckle vine grew and grew and grew, until it almost covered the bunny's bedroom window.

"And I like it," said the rabbit gentleman, breathing in deep of the sweet odor. "I love to listen to the hum of the bees as they come to gather honey. Their buzzing wings sing me to sleep."

So the many happy days passed, but trouble was coming. The Woozie Wolf and the Fuzzy Fox were getting more and more hungry for nibbles off Uncle Wiggily's ears, but they could not catch him, as the bunny rabbit remained safe at home in his hollow stump bungalow, breathing the perfume of the honeysuckle vine.

"Well, if he won't come out where we can get him," growled the Wolf to the Fox, "we must go where he is."

"That's right!" snarled the Fox. Of course it was all wrong, but the Fox and Wolf thought it was right, and there was no use in telling them it wasn't.

So one day the two bad chaps slunk off through the woods to go to Uncle Wiggily's bungalow, to catch the bunny and nibble his ears. The rabbit was sitting on his porch, half asleep and smelling the honeysuckle. All of a sudden the Wolf stepped on a dried stick, which broke with a sharp crack.

Uncle Wiggily awakened, opened his eyes and saw the Fox and Wolf coming and, as quick as a wink, ran in his bungalow and upstairs, shutting himself in his bedroom.

"Dear me! I'm glad Nurse Jane isn't home!" said Uncle Wiggily. "She would be frightened out of her wits. Well, I am safe so far, but I wonder what will happen next?"

He did not have to wait long to find out. Into the bungalow came the Fox and Wolf, barking and snarling.

"We'll get your ears! We'll get your ears!" they howled.

Uncle Wiggily heard them pattering upstairs toward his room. He looked at the door. It was not very thick and the lock was not very strong.

"They can easily break through my door," thought poor Uncle Wiggily. He looked at the window. "It's too high up from the ground for me to jump out!" thought poor Uncle Wiggily. "Oh dear, what shall I do?" he cried aloud, as the pattering steps of the Fox and Wolf came nearer.

"Climb down me!" whispered the voice of the honeysuckle. "I grow from the ground, up to your window just like a ladder. You can easily climb down my vine to the ground."

"Oh, so I can! Thank you!" cried Uncle Wiggily. Leaving his door locked, to keep the Fox and Wolf back as long as he could, Uncle Wiggily climbed down the honeysuckle vine without getting harmed in the least. Then, as the Fox and Wolf, unstairs began to break down his door to get him, the bunny rabbit hurried off through the woods and called two policemen dogs.

"We'll go back to your bungalow and arrest the Fox and the Wolf," barked the Police Dogs, and they did. And you can imagine how angry the Fox and Wolf were when they found how Uncle Wiggily had played a trick on them, climbing down the honeysuckle vine.

So once again we find everything ending happily, and if the cornstarch pudding doesn't fall downstairs and have to be helped up by the watermelon, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the picture book.

COIL MOUNTING THAT IS INTERCHANGEABLE

In conjunction with the new type of inductance coils for reception there has also been developed a new interchangeable coil mounting. The mounting, with its improved and original features and its plug, can be used with all the new coil and panel type plugs. Some of the new improvements are that the plug and jack terminals are interchangeable with all standard plug and panel mountings, so that those having coils of different types can use them as well. The plug terminal is slotted twice at right angles, insuring smooth, easy plugging. A tightening band, which is nickel plated, is secured around the plug. Three holes provide the necessary adjustment and prevent any slipping. The plug is molded bakelite finish, and the contour is shaped to the coil. The solder connections are countersunk, eliminating possible injury to the coil winding. The slot in the tightening band holds the pressure plates in alignment. A thumbscrew adjustment on the tightening band separates the pressure plates and securely clamps the coil to the plug. The metal tightening band eliminates the annoying fiber band and assures perfect tightness at all times. By simply turning the thumbscrew the coil is rigidly held to the coil contour of the bakelite plug. This feature does away with the possibility of the old tpye of fiber band becoming damp and stretching so that the coil becomes loose from its mounting.

TICKLER FEED BACK

By referring to the circuit diagram, it is seen that a coil connected in the plate circuit of the vacuum tube is inductively coupled to a tuned oscillatory circuit, which we may call the tuned grid circuit. The variable condenser shunted across both the head telephones and the plate battery acts to by-pass the radio frequency plate current variations, which are superposed upon the steady, direct current from the plate battery.

Let it be assumed that damped oscillations, due to incoming signals, are present in the tuned grid circuit, which is in resonance with the antenna. Plate current variations of the same frequency (forced oscillations) will flow in the circuit, comprising the by-passing condenser, the tickler coil and the tube space between plate and filament. Providing that the tickler coil is so arranged that the plate circuit oscillations reinforce the tuned grid circuit oscillations, the latter will be regenerated to an extent depending upon the coupling between the tickler and grid coils. The polarity of the two coils must be correct or the tuned grid circuit oscillations will be weakened rather than strengthened.

Starting with a small coupling between the two coils, the regeneration will increase as the energy losses in the grid circuit are more and more compensated by the energy induced by the tickler coil. The received signals will increase in intensity along with an increase in this coupling until the energy losses are completely compensated. That is, the resistance of the grid circuit approaches and finally reaches zero. At this point, however, the oscillations in the grid circuit will be sustained, so that unless the circuit is in very accurate resonance with the antenna the tone of the signals will be destroyed. The maximum signal strength with characteristic tone is had just before oscillations begin, and the value of tickler coupling to secure the result is very critical. However, it is frequently not necessary to have such a high degree of regeneration, and in the case of radio telephone reception it is not advisable. The coupling should be somewhat reduced below the point at which oscillations start and the telephone signals becomes distorted.

This method of regeneration can, of course, accompany a detecting action in the tube and usually does. The detection action occurs in the circuit illustrated, and the diagram is that customarily shown for a regenerative receiver. Regeneration really amounts to radio frequency amplification in this case, and the application of the principle is due to Mr. E. H. Armstrong. It is very interesting to observe, however, that the amplified oscillations have smaller damping than the input or signal oscillations.

TIME TO START

The question had just been popped, and the young colored belle was blushing a most delicate violet shade.

"Jeff," she murmured, "does yo' really love me or does yo' jes' think yo' does?"

"Yas, indeedy, Mandy," he replied. "Ah really loves yo.' Ah ain't done no thinkin' yet,"

They Say That

The question often arises as to where the continental soldiers secured the cannon that were used in the Revolutionary war. On April 19, 1775, which was practically the commencement of the war, the colonists had in their possession but four pieces of field artillery. Some weeks after that date, when General Ward took command of the army, besieging Boston, he found only one six-pounder and a half dozen three-pounders. The revolutionists, however, soon afterwards captured the guns in most of the royal forts, securing a greater booty at Ticonderoga than anywhere else. But for the 200 pieces they captured, the siege of Boston must have been a fiasco.

Yet not many field guns—only six at Trenton—were taken from the British before the surrender of Burgoyne, two years a half after fighting began. Eleven pieces were lost at Brandywine.

"Where did you get your big guns?" was asked of a Massachusetts prisoner in England. His answer was "We make them ourselves." The next question was: "Where did you get your patterns?" He is said to have replied, "From Burgoyne at Saratoga."

Three or four Massachusetts foundries turned out Revolutionary cannon. At Bridgewater, Hugh Orr, whose establishment had already a quarter of a century's standing, produced a great number of iron and several pieces were case solid and bored—a novelty. In Springfield the government works were begun in 1778, and some government cannon were cast there during the Revolution

Cannon for the Revolutionary navy came from Hope furnace in the town of Scituate, Rhode Island. The Connecticut council, before the war had long continued, expended $7250 on a furnace in Salisbury to cast cannon and employed a corps of fifty-nine men to conduct it.

It is hard to locate any New York town in which cannon were made. The furnaces at Mt. Hope and Hibernia, in New Jersey, were noted as yielding the ordnance of which the army of Washington had such pressing need. In Pennsylvania, Warwick furnace was very active in casting cannon, some of which were buried when the British drew nigh in 1775. The owner of Elizabeth furnace in Lancaster county, in payment for sundry great guns, received German prisoners, at one time forty-two, and at another time twenty-eight, at $150 per head. He discovered that they knew better how to make guns than to use them. Cornwall, now the oldest charcoal furnace in the Union, yielded its quota of Revolutionary ordnance, and at the Reading works one gun a day was turned out.

No state but Pennsylvania can clearly show four cannon-casting establishments in our first great struggle. Near Baltimore cannon were cast in 1780 at Northampton, and from Ridgley's furnace near it small cannon had been ordered by congress in 1776. In Virginia the only cannon foundry was at Westham, six miles above Richmond, and destroyed by Arnold in 1781. As to North Carolina, Colonel Hill cast cannon for Revolutionary Whigs at his iron works, which so enraged the Tories that they burned them.

On June 16, 1777, James Byers, who had cast brass cannon at Philadelphia, was ordered to hold himself in readiness to remove with his apparatus at a moment's warning on the approach of the British. On August 19 he asked to be allowed to use state copper —which came from a mine on French Creek In the Fourth of July procession of 1788 in Philadelphia, there was a car which bore a furnace in full blast, that finished a three-inch brass howitzer on the way, which at the halting place was mounted and fired. Seeing specimens of American artillery as early as the first year of the war, amazed the royal leaders at our enterprise.

Book Reviews

Stories of adventure to fill the vacation hours of the young boy, as well as stories for his sister, are included in the new books recently released for distribution in the young people's department at the Glendale public library on Harvard street, some of which are listed as follows:

"Boy Scout Colors," by Joseph B. Ames. A story of thrilling adventure, written under the auspices of the American Boy Scout organization and is officially endorsed by the leaders of the movement as an accurate and comprehensive presentation of its purposes and methods.

"Adventures In Beaver Stream Camp," by Major A. Radclyffe Dugmore. A story of the resourcefulness of two boys who are wrecked on the coast of Newfoundland while on a fishing trip.

"Scouting with General Funston," by Everett T. Tomlinson. A story of two boys' experiences with General Funston's forces in Mexico.

"Pete, Cow Puncher," by Joseph B. Ames. A western tale for boys. A faithful picture of the cowboy's life by one who has lived it.

"The Boy Scouts of Black Eagle Patrol," by Leslie W. Quirk. Full of rippling fun and thrilling intensity.

"Delightful Stories for Children," by Elizabeth Billings Stuart.

"A Host of Children," by James Whitcomb Riley.

"Real Out-of-Door Stories," by Clara J. Denton. Real stories of the real doings of live creatures, including birds, insects and animals.

"The Story of Little Black Sambo," by Helen Bannerman. The thrilling experiences of Litte Black Sambo with Tigers in the Jungle.

"Good Night Stories," by Laura Roundtree Smith.

"The Stroy of France," by Mary MacGregor.

"Children's Games for All Seasons."

"Heidi," by Johanna Spyri.

EN ROUTE

An A. of O. man had run into an ex-buck of the German army whose face was terribly lacerated.

"Were you in the Argonne?" asked the doughboy.

"Ja, wohl."

"How come you got your face so smashed up?"

"Ach!" replied the Jerry bitterly. "I was so foolish as to look back."

CAN'T BE DONE

"That's all rot about marrying in haste and repenting at leisure."

"Is it?"

"Of course. A man never has any leisure after he is married."

Paris Papers Have Strange Contests

PARIS—Contests are the rage in the Paris press. Readers have been asked to vote for the most beautiful girl in France, the most "meritorious" girl, the best method to combat the declining birthrate, the most appropriate way to celebrate Pasteur's centenary and other judgment exercisers.

l'Internationale, communist afternoon daily, has capped the climax with a contest to determine "the worst employers of Paris and surrounding coutnry." It claims to have received four thousand responses, but "for obvious reasons" does not publish names of winning voters.

The world will sometimes take a man on bluff, but it is better to have a return ticket.

Sculptor Studies 'Buffalo Bill' Site

CODY, Wyo. — Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, of New York, noted sculptor, is here to study the surroundings in preparation for the sketching of designs from which one will be selected by the Boy Scouts of America and the Cody Memorial Association of New York City for the carving of a memorial to the late Colonel William Cody (Buffalo Bill) in this city, his own town.

It has been tentatively decided that the Boy Scouts of America will conduct the campaign for funds to finance the carving of the statue, which will be the highest type of art, and which will attract world-wide attention to Cody.

FURNITURE SALES ARE HOLDING UP

L. W. Russell Declares That Business Continues Good; Notes and Personals

"July is supposed to be a dull month in the furniture business," remarked L. W. Russell of the Russell-Pierce company, 1529 South San Fernando road yesterday. "It hasn't been dull with us. We have had an exceptionally good business. In fact, we are sold completely out of samples. We had several large orders last month from Pasadena. One of them was for $1200."

At Redondo Beach

"Charlie" Comfort of 301 South Central avenue, estimate man for the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company, 460 West Los Feliz road, spent the week-end at Redondo Beach. He says that this resort seems quieter than the other beaches. He admits, however, that it is a good place for a rest.

Reports Best Route

California Retail Monument Dealers Holding Meeting In Los Angeles

C. H. Ambrosch of 644 North Pacific avenue, proprietor of the Glendale Monument Works, 1727 South Brand boulevard, and wife, are attending the annual convention of the California Retail Monument Dealers this week at the Ambassador Hotel, Los Angeles. The program includes a theatre party tomorrow night and another later in the week. The big banquet occurs Thursday. In the neighborhood of 200 delegates are in attendance. Friday they will have a banquet at the Virginia Hotel, Long Beach.

Admits It's Hot

George B. Karr of 1152 North Louise street, manager of the Baldwin Shirt company's factory at 1725 South Brand boulevard, motored to San eBrnardino Sunday, accompaned by members of his family. Yes, he admits it was warm. However, he says that there is nothing like a nice cool shirt on a hot day.

R. W. DICK FAMILY ON AUTO OUTING

Enjoy Trip to San Diego; Topanga Canyon Visited; At Tujunga River

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Dick and their two children, Frank and Robert, of 424 West Windsor road motored to San Diego for the week-end. Mr. Dick left the Baldwin Shirt company's factory at 1725 South Brand boulevard at the usual hour Friday night. They camped en route that night and spent the following night at the camp grounds at their destination. While in the southern section of the state they crossed the border and visited Tiajuana. Mr. Dick says, however, that he was too busy nunting for shade to measure any of the bulls for shirts.

Visits Topanga Canyon

Topanga Canyon was visited on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ambrosch of 644 North Pacific avenue and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wager and daughter, Miss Irma Wager. Mr. Ambrosch is proprietor of the establishment at 1727 South Brand boulevard, known as the Glendale Monument Works.

LOOK OUT, GOATS! HE WILL GET YOU

Claude Caswell and His Wife at Catalina for Vacation Outing

Old Dame Rumor is stalking around the Gateway Market!

Claude Caswell of 230 South Central avenue, proprietor of the butcher shop in the Gateway Market, and wife, are still at Catalina, according to Tom Logan, who is managing the etsablishment during Mr. Caswell's absence.

A postal card has been received stating that they had a pleasant trip across the channel but that they had a more exciting time on a seaplane voyage.

As goat hunting from airplanes is great sport on "The Island," someone has inquired as to whether or not Mr. Caswell is spending his time laying in a "flock of goat meat" for the Gateway Market.

Peanuts Replacing Cotton In Sections

WASHINGTON—The manufacture of peanut oil has bee nstimulated a great deal in recent years because of the ravages of the cotton boll weevil in reducing cotton growing in certain sections, says the department of agriculture.

Peanuts are grown in place of cotton. Before 1914 very little of the oil was made, only 450,000 pounds being produced in 1922, but by 1918 the quantity turned out by crushers in this country was about 50,000,000 pounds. At the same time imports increased from 7,600,000 to 27,400,000 pounds.

AUCTIONEER PLANS LARGE QUARTERS

Jack Harrison to Have Much Larger Auction Rooms; Business Changes

Auctioneer Jack Harrison of 1508 South San Fernando road, whose Thursday night sales are proving quite a drawing card in Southern Glendale, expects to have much larger quarters before long.

Edward Everett of 1508½ South San Fernando road, owner of the building in which Mr. Harrison's store is located, is making plans to erect a galvanized shed from the rear of the present building to Central avenue. This will be sixty feet deep and will have a frontage of forty feet on Central avenue. Mr. Harrison will use the new building for his auctions.

Charles McCuly of Hollywood has acquired an interest in the cabinet shop at 458 West Los Feliz road and a new building is now being erected for the new firm. This will provide about double the floor space. Their new premises will have a frontage of 38 feet on Los Feliz road and will extend 150 feet back to the alley.

Mrs. Francis Van Horn of La Crescenta has taken the lease on the lunch room at 1415 South San Fernando road known as the Blue Moon Cafe. Its interior is now being redecorated before being reopened for business. Arrangements have been made for much better ventilation.

At this season of the year, out of respect for their age (if not at all seasons, in order to do them justice), potatoes should be baked.

Service That Fulfills Promise

He will succeed, for he believes all he says.
—Mirabeau.

Earnestness of purpose is one of the indispensable factors of success. To hold public confidence, one's promises and declarations of policy must be carried out in every business dealing.

In the profession of undertaking, or any other, just as in merchandising, promise of fair dealing and faithful service can bring success only when he who utters it believes all he says, and carries out in action the principles on which he invites patronage.

The L. G. Scovern Co. not only declares for fair dealing, lowest pricing, faithful service, but completely believes in such principles, and carries them out in every day's work. Which is one explanation for Scovern preeminence in its chosen field.

READY TO WORK

Two pilgrims of the dusty road were discussing the alleged corrupt practices of modern politicians.

"Bill," said one, "you don't hanker after a gov-ment job, do you?"

"I don't mind sayin' I'd take one if I could get it," retorted the other, "but I ain't after no job that's all fat. I'm willin' to earn my wages."

"What sort of a job would be your idea?"

"Well, I'd like to fill fountain pens for some assistant secretary of the treasury."

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

THE CURSE OF A THIN SKIN

"She is very sensitive and easily hurt," a mother said to me in regard to her 8-year-old daughter.

She said it in the child's hearing. And the child not only listened but evidently "ate it up," as the expression goes.

One could tell by her expression, her air of being pointed out as something unusual, that she had heard that said before and that she regarded her sensitiveness as something distinctive and desirable.

Nothing to Be Proud of Poor youngster! First, to be cursed with a thin skin. And secondly, to be cursed with the idea that a thin skin is something to be proud of! That supersensitiveness is something to be cultivated instead of stepped on with both feet!

I can see her growing up into one of those unhappy creatures who are forever being hurt and having to be smoothed over, who are always afraid people don't want them and have to be reassured and urged before they will join any party.

'Oh, What's the Use!'

Sometimes such people have enough good points so that others are willing to reassure and urge for the sake of their company. But it takes a great many good points to outweigh that necessity. And there are always so many people who have good points and don't have the supersensitiveness that in the end folks are apt to say, "Oh, what's the use," and let the supersensitive person retire into her shell, because it's too much work to keep pulling her out.

I have in mind a woman afflicted with this curse. She lives at an inn where there are many good times going on. She might have her share in most of them but she is so sensitive, so afraid of intruding, such a hanger-back, that she is apt to be off on a walk by herself, or up in her room, when good times are planned and then gets left out. And then that makes her more sensitive, and so the vicious circle runs.

Dead Sea Fruit

Supersensitiveness is a misfortune. It's the defect that goes with certain good qualities. But it is not in itself a good quality and it will surely bring you unhappiness unless you do everything you can to overcome it. Don't let yourself think people don't want you. Be natural, be happy, be ready to join in and have a good time and people will want you.

And if you are a mother of children don't plant any of this poppycock idea about being sensitive in their young minds. The fruit it will bear will be the dead sea fruit of morbidness and unhappiness. Don't be a party to any such harvest.

EVEN MAMMY GETS RADIOGRAPH

One of the old-fashioned type of negro mammy from Kentucky, that we often read of. Times have changed some, and now mammy does her work to the music received via radio. Be it washing of clothes, or sweeping the house, the radio set is handy and pleasant music may be picked from the air as easily as cotton is picked from the plant.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

CONSTIPATION, CONTINUED

Yesterday we talked generally on constipation and I told you of the two general clinical varieties—the atonic constipation and the spastic constipation. The word atonic means without tone and it is applied to a form of constipation in which there is lack of tone in the muscles in the intestinal tract, so that it has not enough expulsive power. The atonic constipation is characterized by hard dry stools, but no flatulence (gas) or pain. If this atonic type goes on long enough it may eventually irritate the intestinal mucous membrane enough so that there is a low grade of inflammation with the production of a good deal of mucous. This inflammation may cause muscular spasms of the intestinal tract; that is why it is called the spastic type.

The stools of this spastic type are apt to be ribbonlike and contain a good deal of mucous and there is gas and pain.

Causes of Constipation

1. Insufficient quantity of solid food. There may be too little bulk to excite normal peristalsis (the wormlike movement by which the alimentary canal propels its contents).
2. Too highly concentrated foods which are almost completely absorbed.
3. Insufficient fluids.
4. Astringent foods or drinks checking the normal amount of mucous secretions.
5. Indigestible foods which may be too hard and bulky to move through the bowels easily, or which may cause abnormal fermentation and thus hinder peristalsis.
6. Lack of digestive fluids, or a serious alteration in quality of them.
7. Irregularity in diet, and imperfect mastication.
8. Over-eating. The accumulation of waste matter may be greater than the muscle power to propel.
9. Imperfect nerve stimulation and enfeebled intestinal muscles.
10. Lack of exercise and too little oxygen, resulting in sluggish circulation and a tendency to diminish general functional activity.
11. The failure of a regular time being taken for the evacuation of the bowels.
12. Drugs.

Dr. Richard Cabot has said that constipation is a disease of the brain; that constipation of the bowels is generally due to wrong thoughts and emotions and worry, and that rarely is there found anything wrong with the intestines.

Let us look into this. The nerve supply of the bowels comes both through the cerebro or central nervous system and from the sympathetic system. The sympathetic system is really a special nervous system but is a part of the central nervous system. It supplies the intestinal organs. The sympathetic system has powers of its own and was probably called the sympathetic because it was so easily affected by emotions. You have noticed how soon the heart or the intestines are affected by any strong excitement, fear or any strong emotion.

The sympathetic fibres are largely the inhibitory fibres. That is, they are the fibres that stop and hold back and regulate action.

Now if you are anxious, or are at a nervous tension all the time, these fibres of the intestinal tract are affected and they either overdo their part of holding back the action, and constipation results, or they may be affected so that they do not work at all and diarrhoea results.

In a certain system the therapeutics in which the patient or follower is taught that there is no such thing as matter and therefore nothing to worry about, there are more testimonies concerning the cure of constipation than of any other ailment—that does not exist. Why is this? First, they stop worrying about themselves and their 'claims,' a very desirable frame of mind to attain. Second, my edition of their textbook says "Semi-starvation is not acceptable to wisdom and it is equally far from science." "Eat what is set before you asking no questions for conscience sake."

Now it is a well known fact that many people are constipated because they do not eat enough, so here is a two-fold reason for their patients to have a regular time to go to the toilet, so there is the three-fold reason for success

And, oh yes, I forgot the greatest reason of all—they make them stop taking physic!

BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS

Freckles—The formula you give, which contains bay rum, lemon juice and water in equal parts, has bleaching qualities, but it should not be used every time the face is cleansed, or every day, as you say your friend uses it. Constant applications of this bleach dry out the secretions and make the skin harsh with a tendency to fine lines; although a generous massage with cream would somewhat lessen this tendency.

It is well to understand the action of the different ingredients so they may be used as needed. For instance, lemon juice makes a good bleach, but since it is an acid it neutralizes the oil in the skin and will irritate and dry it out, unless oil is supplied through a cream or a plain oil application. Bay rum, while very cleansing, also dries out the secretions and it is also a highly stimulative and severe treatment for delicate skin. The juice from cucumbers makes an excellent bleach and when it is combined with a fine oil (such as almond) and then made into an extract with some alcohol to preserve it, you have a perfect combination for bleaching and also preserving the healthy action of the pores. If you care for such a formula, I will be glad to mail one to you on receipt of a stamped addressed envelope.

Ta Ta—A girl of 15 years, height 5 feet 4 inches, will be normal weight at 110 pounds.

Disgusted—Cream is only used as a base for powder when the skin is very dry. A moist or oily skin should not require this precaution. If cream is needed it should be used sparingly and gently massaged into pores with finger tips, after which all surplus should be wiped off as there will still be sufficient cream to hold the powder. If your skin is active, omit the cream before powdering, but be sure to remove all surface secretion before applying the powder if you would enjoy a delicate effect. There will always be enough oil in the pores to hold the powder.

For daily use, the cold cream which is simply a cleanser, or the flesh building cream containing nourishing oils, should be your choice in preference to a vanishing cream. The latter has its use at times as it will make a rough skin soft and smooth for the moment, therefore it serves a purpose; but for constant use it will force into the pores any soil that is on the surface which would interfere with the ordinary functioning of the skin.

An ointment in which there is sulphur, or a yeast cake made into a paste with water, will sometimes heal pimples, after the cause for them has been eradicated, as pimples indicate that the skin is being used to throw off impurities in the system. It is well to treat continued attacks of pimples externally as well as internally, as they sometimes spread over the skin by one eruption infecting the other.

PEACHES FOR THE PRESERVE CLOSET

There are so many delicious things that can be made with this fruit, and we look forward to the time when it is at its best so that we can make the old fashioned dishes such as peach preserve, brandied peaches, and the like, of our grandmothers.

Select sound, ripe peaches of a fine, rich variety. Peaches may be easily peeled by pouring boiling water on them and allowing them to stand about a minute; a longer time would soften them too much. Scald only half dozen at a time. Keep the peeled fruit covered with a wet cloth to prevent discoloration. When peeling with a knife, a good plan is to halve and stone them before peeling.

OLD FASHIONED PEACH PRESERVE: Peel, halve and stone peaches. Weigh them. Take an equal weight of sugar and make a syrup, adding one-half cup of water to each three cups of sugar; melt, and boil ten minutes; then drop in the peaches and cook them until a wooden toothpick will pierce them easily. Skim carefully. Put the fruit in jars, boil and skim the syrup a few minutes longer, fill the jars to overflowing with the syrup, and seal.

A few stones may be boiled with the syrup, and two or three put in each jar to flavor.

BRANDIED PEACHES: Select clingstone peaches; peel, halve, stone and weigh. Take one-half their weight of granulated sugar. Place peaches and sugar in alternate layers in jar. Cover well with maraschino cherries and juice and fasten top securely.

SPICED PEACHES: Make a syrup by boiling three and one-half pounds of sugar with two cups of cider vinegar ten minutes. Put in enough peeled peaches to cover the bottom of kettle and cook gently and steadily until a wooden toothpick will pierce them easily. Skim the peaches out carefully; put them on a platter and cook the remainder the same way. When all are done, drain off the juice, put it in the kettle, boil up and skim off the froth. Put the peaches in a jar, pour the hot syrup over them, tie a half ounce of stick cinnamon, half an ounce of whole cloves, a half teaspoon of whole allspice, and a quarter of a nutmeg broken into bits, in a clean cloth and lay it on top. Cover closely, and at the end of a week pour off the juice, boil up, and pour it hot over the peaches.

PEACH CONSERVE: Peel, stone and cut peaches in small pieces. Put in preserving kettle, add three-fourths of a pound to each pound of peaches, then add one cup of raisins, cut in small pieces, one cup of English walnuts, cut in pieces, the juice of one lemon, the juice of one orange, one whole orange cut in thin slices. Bring slowly to the boiling point and let simmer one and one-quarter hours, stirring occasionally to prevent burning. Put in jars or glasses and seal.

PEACH MARMALADE—Make a syrup of sugar and water, using the same proportion of sugar to peaches as given in peach conserve; add finely cut peaches and boil until thick, about 45 minutes. Put in jars, seal.

PEACH BUTTER: Three cups of peach pulp; two cups of sugar; one cup water. Peel, stone and cut peaches in small pieces. Place water and peaches in preserving kettle and simmer until peaches are tender. And one-half the sugar and let simmer one-half hour, then add rest of sugar a few slices of lemon and a half teaspoon of ground cloves and cinnamon and boil gently until perfectly stiff. Put in jars or glass and seal.

Girl Keeps 15-Year Marriage Promise

ALBANY—Fifteen years ago Miss Ruth Weston, school teacher, boarded at the home of the Rev. J. H. Osterhout, then pastor of a church at Valley Falls and now located here.

"I supose you will be getting married one of these days," the Rev. Osterhout said to her.

"When I do I will have you perform the ceremony," she replied.

Shortly afterward Miss Weston located in Iowa. She took up the study of medicine and became a leading woman doctor. Then she met the right man and she remembered her promise to her old friend. They were married here by the Rev. Osterhout.

ONE RAY OF JOY

"And what kind of a filling do you want, my little man?" asked a kindly dentist of a small boy who had been suffering a dozen martyrdoms in the chair.

It was the first cheerful word the boy had heard for an hour.

"Gimme chocolate," he replied, brightening visibly.

German Labor Army to France, Proposed

PARIS—Armed with picks and shovels, a German labor army will invade France, under the orders of the reparations commission, if present plans evolved by the French minister of public works, M. Yves Le Troquer, and backed by M. Poincare, become a reality. For several years Germany has been offering to rebuild the devastated regions of northern France, but has never been able to reach an agreement with Paris.

The French explained that it was too much to expect to ask the inhabitants of the devastated area to receive, even as workmen, the men who had been in the villages as oppressors.

"Perhaps the villagers would recognize in the gang foreman the sergeants of the German army of a year or two ago. We cannot ask our people to face this," declared M. Poincare. The Germans took advantage of the French refusal to spread propaganda that the French business interests refused to permit the Germans to rebuild the devastated regions, because French profiteers insist upon getting their commission out of any reconstruction work.

Germany will be given her opportunity to work out her debt. But the French will not permit the Germans to rebuild northern France. Districts far removed from cities and where as few French live as possible will be selected. German industrial cities will be built on the Rhone, where Germans will build large dams and install hydro-electric equipment.

In these German colonies to be installed in the heart of France everything will be German exceut the French engineers who will supervise the work. German workers must leave their families in the Vaterland, and the laborers will be housed in temporary wooden barracks, many of which served to shelter American troops during the war.

The labor regulations will all be German. The laborers will be paid in German marks, with a small supplement in francs to be bought by the contractors. Discipline will be up to the Germans to manage.

UNTRUSTWORTHY

A Washington woman, despairing of finding an experienced cook, at last decided to take an untrained girl and superintend her education. The very first morning the eggs came on the breakfast table boiled as hard as the proverbial brickbats.

"I told you," said the mistress, "that I wanted these eggs boiled exactly three minutes."

"But, missus," remonstrated the maid, "I ain't got no clock."

"No clock? Why, certainly, you have the kitchen clock. What do you mean?"

"But, missus, ain't you forgot you told me only this mornin' the kitchen clock was ten minutes fast?"

France Won't Buy American Trucks

PARIS — Thirteen thousand American motor trucks—all of them war, or at least "occupation" veterans—are going begging on European markets. France, at any rate, doesn't want 'em, according to l'Auto.

French motor manufacturing circles believe they sense a danger in what they would regard as the "dumping" of these second-hand trucks on the French market. It would result in lowering truck prices in France and, they claim, unemployment in the motor manufacturing industry.

According to l'Auto, the trucks have been sent to England for repair with the understanding that they are not to be sold in the United Kingdom, but are to be reexported for Continental—largely French—sale. It is charged that American motor interests have induced the government to sell the trucks this side of the ocean.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advertisement.

THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH

Under a spreading awning sign
Stands the gendarme on our beat.
The cop a mighty man is he,
With large and sinewy feet.
And the muscles there behind his ears
Are as wide as any street.

In view of the slump in which the gentleman in question finds himself, it is suggested that Mr. B. Ruth be starred in a new photo production entitled "A Foul There Was."

NO MONEY, NO BOUTEY

The fact that nothing further has been heard from the Dempsey-Wills enterprise has given the boys who scathingly referred to the signed agreement as "a scrap of paper" lots of elbow room for purposes of the typographical squawk. Dempsey's silence is taken as bearing out their claims that the agreement means nothing in particular.

The agreement means nothing in particular because no real business could be done at the time it was signed to placate an arbitrary boxing commission.

Nowadays it takes three to make a fight—two principals and one promoter. To date the latter has managed to turn up missing.

It is vehemently denied that when the application of a certain outfielder for reinstatement came up before Judge Landis the commissioner did lift up his voice and spake as follows: "Roush mit 'em."

POOR? SO WAS CARNEGIE

Oh, poor old Tyrus Raymond Cobb.
Those creaking shanks, your aged knob,
Down low is bent, your speed is spent,
A broken, weary, useless gent.
You'll hardly hold your precious job,
You senile Tyrus Raymond Cobb.

TIMES DO CHANGE

"After Ruth expired," reads a report of a recent ball game, "Meusel doubled against the right field wall, scoring Pipp."

After Ruth expired. Get that? They are not talking about some kid infielder just up from the sticks, but George Herman Ruth, the mighty hitter for whom they named cigars, suspenders, parlor games and eyebrow pencils. The day was not so long ago that every time he scratched his head the delicate echo was heard from Frisco to Far Rockaway.

Now he expires obligingly in three words and a period.

ONE MAN VERSUS THREE

The meeting of Spain and Australia in the finals of the Davis Cup series at Philadelphia is noteworthy only for its international aspect. Spain has but one real star to shoot against Patterson, Anderson and Wood. His name is Manuel Alonzo, and according to the best advices he tops them all with the exception of Tilden, Johnston and Patterson.

But once Alonzo has spoken his little piece the Australians will go on manhandling the rest of the Spanish at their leisure.

Sports Chatter

By Bill Unmack
Pacific Sports Service

Jack Dempsey, so it is reported, will defend his world heavyweight title against Brennan on Labor Day. We are also informed that Jess Willard is sincere in his desire for a return match with Dempsey and this contest is also to be staged. Then it has also been reported that Harry Wills, the negro aspirant, is also positively signed for a match with the champion.

It all looks good for Dempsey and manager Kearns to fatten their bank account with no worries as to the champion being in any danger of losing his title. The three matches quoted would undoubtedly bring in big crowds though it is hardly likely that any of them will draw the ninety thousand spectators that Dempsey-Carpentier drew through the gates.

Dempsey is the eighth holder of the world heavyweight title since 1882. The modern history of the heavy division dates from, or rather is considered dating from the time that John L. Sullivan defeated Paddy Ryan at Mississippi City February 7, 1882. Every big fight for the title between the big fellows from that date has attracted more and more world-wide attention until today Dempsey stands out in the limelight of publicity in a greater degree than any of his predecessors.

The latter day public interest in big boxing contests is reflected in the growing size of gate receipts In the days when Sullivan, Corbett, Fitzsimmons and Jeffries fought the total gate receipts were lower than what Brennan, Willard or Wills will probably get as their share for a fight against Dempsey. The history of six figure receipts for a heavyweight fight dates back to 1908 when Johnson and Burns drew the unheard of gate receipts of $131,000 at Sydney, in Australia. Two years later at Reno, Nev., Johnson and Jeffries drew $270,000. Then the next big fight of world prominence was held at Havana, Cuba, and even at that distance with a more or less very limited territory to draw from, Johnson and Willard drew $110,000.

Then at the close of the war, the unheard of in gate receipts was recorded when Dempsey won the title from Willard before a crowd which paid $452,522. That was considered just about the limit, but last year the world was startled when Dempsey fought Carpentier when ninety thousand people paid $1,623,380.50 to see the two big fellows in action.

None of the present crop of heavies can hardly expect to equal the drawing powers of Dempsey and Carpentier, but at the same time when Leonard and Tendler, lightweights, can draw more than half a million receipts it is quite possible that the next fight Dempsey goes into will draw round the million dollar mark, provided it is held in a place where a large crowd can be seated and no limitation placed on the prices by a discerning, state boxing commission.

Jim Aiken, light heavyweight champion of the Hawaiian Islands has just arrived in San Francisco where he is anxious to get into the boxing ring to see what he is capable of doing with the main leaders. Aiken is a well-built, clean cut young chap who is a stranger to the United States. There is no one in his home island who is capable of extending him so he has come for new fields to conquer.

The question as to whether the left handed or right handed golfer is capable of the best game had something of a demonstration at the Coronado Country club recently with the best of the argument resting with the southpaws. In the county championships two lefties, Lieut. A. W. Vanaman of Coronado Tent City, and Thomas E. Sharp were at the top of the heap.

Ask any golfer who takes the game seriously and has a genuine love and respect for it and he will advise that every man or woman who is about to go on the links should first of all carefully read the printed rules of this sport. There is no question that hundreds of players never consider the reading of the rules as of any importance with the result that they continually are encroaching upon the rights and liberties of others on the course. Of course this may be done unknowingly, but it nevertheless is both an infraction and discourteous, both of which sins are inexcusable.

A newspaper comments editorially on the fact that two wrestlers will fill a big auditorium to overflowing while a bare handful would go to hear Einstein tell the secrets of the universe. It thereupon comes to the astonishing conclusion that while the public likes or appreciates music, the arts or science, it apparently likes physical prowess better.

Guessing whether or not Harold F. McCormick will marry the operatic star, or his daughter Mathilde become the bride of the Swiss horseman has become the latest populuar sport, both indoor and outdoor. We know it would be only a question of time before they will get on the sports pages.

KID FERRY AND BATTLING ROBINSON MEET IN TEN ROUND BOXING BOUT; 'BOX 'EM BOTH' IS THE CRY

FIGHTERS FULLA FOWLS! HOT DOG!

Contest Lasts to Limit and Then Referee and Purse Are Missing

By BUOY SCOOT

In a ten-round battle such as had never before been staged in the squared circle, "Kid" Ferry and "Battling" Robinson, well-known Glendale pugilists, last Thursday fought to a draw at Howland's Landing, Catalina Island.

The match was promoted with the utmost secrecy by H. F. Benner, local High Goofus of the Boy Scouts, and, being an invitational affair, only the Scouts in camp at Howland's Landing were present. Several preliminary matches preceded the main event, and considerable delay was occasioned by the squabbling of the two boxers over the purse.

It was finally decided that the winner would take as much of the purse as he could get from the promoter, while the loser took what he could from the winner. No provision was made that Promoter Benner should be present at the end of the match, and it afterward turned out that at its conclusion, Benner was hiking across to the mainland.

"Kid" Ferry, who it is rumored is also known as Peter L. Ferry, first entered the ring at 115 pounds, 15¾ ounces, comfortably under the bantamweight 116-pound limit. He was closely followed by "Battling" Robinson, who is said to be mayor of some town in his idle moments. "Battling," it is claimed, put only one foot on the scales, holding the other in the air, and thus achieving 115 pounds, or just half of his actual weight.

However, he slipped by somehow, and as he entered the ring, let fall his robe, displaying a magnificent torso, especially impressive about the middle front. A tremendous ovation greeted the two scrappers as, with lowering brows, they shook hands. The battle by rounds:

Round One—Both men danced lightly to the middle of the ring, where they clinched and made faces at each other until Benner broke the clinch. Battling awarded advantage for worst face. Kid led with left to nose which Battling avoided by opening his mouth. Time out for Kid to get new glove, original one having been scorched and cracked by hot air. Battling led with right hook to Kid's left foot which Kid escaped by back double flip. Time.

Round Two—Kid delivered left smash to Battling's right funny bone, temporarily blinding the latter. Robinson raised his singing voice crying for time, and Ferry put gloves to ears. Battling protested and Referee Benner called foul on Ferry, instructing him to fight with ears open. After short discussion Benner was hurled over the ringside and the fighters sparred until time was called.

Round Three—Robinson and Ferry advanced to clinch, putting feet together, but in this position could not touch hands. Finally solved problem by falling forward and clasping necks. Clinch broken. Battling led with vicious uppercut but the Kid pulled in his ears and blow went wild. Gave spring dance until end of round.

Round Four—Battling advanced and threw kiss at Ferry who protested. Referee decided no foul and fight continued. A haymaker to the knee knocked wind out of the Kid, who staggered and collided with Battling. Head on collision and both men down. Doctor called and diagnosed both cases as drooping of the chest. Rubbed on turpentine and fighters revived in a hurry. Fight was more furious than ever.

Round Five—As round started, referee cautioned Ferry against pulling Robinson's hair. The Kid went after Robinson's nose like contractor going after city work. Battling received hard jolt but came back with a mean smack to the ear. The Kid returned with a jab to the midriff which caused Robinson to look for sponge. No sponge being found to throw up, and Battling being a stickler for etiquette, the fight necessarily continued. Time! Lunch time.

Round Six—Timekeeper having gone fishing, Benner asked someone to loan him a watch. Nobody would trust him, so finally produced his own timepiece and fight went on. Battling tapped Ferry on the shoulder and the two forgot themselves and started playing "tag" around the ring. Benner unable to stop them until time was up.

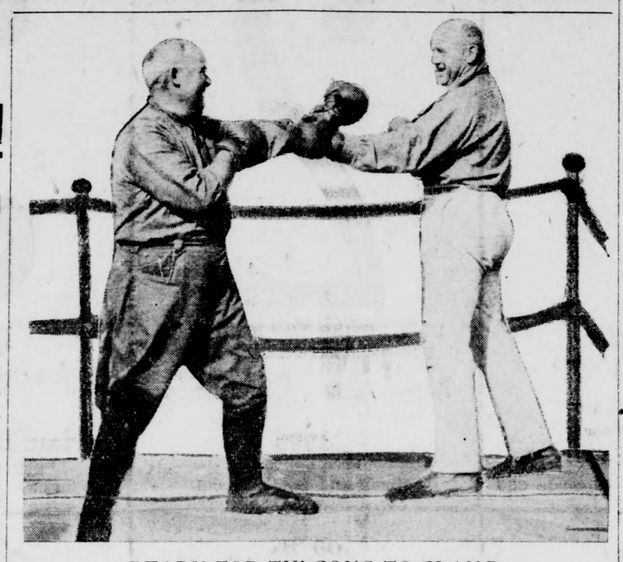
Round Seven—Both fighters getting winded. Robinson having sung between rounds, and Ferry not being much on wind. Sparred until crowd began to crab. Ferry shot a right to Robinson's wrist and Battling limped during rest of the round. The Kid clinched in an effort to get back wind and Battling landed one in the middle. Fight halted to take up waistband of Kid's tights, bringing girth down to forty-nine inches. Robinson addresses crowd on advantages of singing and deep breathing until end of round.

Round Eight—Robinson darted from chair and crowd thought he was out to murder the Kid. Later developed that someone had put pin in chair with exhilarating effect. Kid put head down and rushed. Battling dropped guard and heads cracked together. Scout expert in woodcraft examined heads and declared fighters only stunned. Timekeeper lost count so many times that both regained feet before he got as far as ten. Ferry tried steam roller rush which Robinson avoided by sidestep as long as a city ordinance. Time! What time? Any time!

Round Nine—Crowd delirious as end drew near and neither man showed strain. Robinson reached up and tapped Ferry's chin. Latter dropped nasty left at Battling's face, but latter's nose got in way and Kid missed. Made remark about Battling always getting nose into things, and Robinson retorted with left to Ferry's pocket. Fight halted while Kid made sure money was all there. Both started wind mill tactics and continued fanning until end of round.

Round Ten—Both boxmakers, worn from furious work of last round. Kid reached a hook for Battling's left ankle but missed, sprawling between latter's legs. Battling drove series of smashes at nearest spot and Kid complained. Referee found missing with purse, and no foul called. Furious at loss of purse, both men fought to take it out of each other's hide. Plenty of hide, but too much flesh behind it, and neither one marked. Ferry advanced with arms going like concrete mixer. Robinson also came forward like steam roller. Concussion broke timekeeper's watch. Fighters saw Benner with the purse, far away already and going farther, and stopped fighting to argue over breach of contract. Finally decided that time was up and Robinson led assembly in singing "Hail, the Conquering Hero," while Ferry responded with a beautiful little number "'Taint Right."

P. S. A post card from referee-Promoter Benpet states that the affair was a draw, the fighters drawing blanks and he himself drawing the purse. But see what a beautiful picture of the bout the artist drew for this page!



READY FOR TH' GONG TO CLANG

This picture—yes, it's authentic—shows Kid Ferry and Battling Robinson awaiting the call of round No. 1 in their ten-round battle held last week on Catalina Island. The fight was a scream. The boxers frequently halted to hear the crowd cry "Cuckoo!"

U. S. Balloonists to Face Race Handicap

PARIS, Aug. 1. — The three American entrants in the American balloon races for the James Gordon Bennett cup starting from Geneva next Sunday will be badly handicapped by their ignorance of European meteorological conditions, it was declared here today by Lieutenant-Commander J. P. Norfleet on the eve of his departure for Switzerland.

"But all are hopeful of taking the cup back to the United States, anyhow," continued Lieutenant-Commander Norfleet. "Ralph Upsom was upset by the same circumstances when the race started from Paris in 1913. On the other hand, foreign balloonists have been unusually successful in the United States."

Norfleet will pilot the American naval balloon; Major Oscar Westover the American army balloon, and Ralph Honeywell the American civilian balloon. Twenty balloons have been entered by various countries

"HONEY" WAS SLOW

She left hubby alone in their room at the hotel while she did some shopping. She returned. The many doors and numbers confused her. But she soon decided which was her room.

She knocked and called: "I'm back, honey—let me in!"

No answer.

"Honey, honey—let me in!" she called again, knocking harder. "Honey, it's me—please, honey!"

Brief silence then a man's voice, cold and full of dignity, came from the other side of the door: "Madam, this is not a beehive; it's a bathroom."

One of the saddest and most vexatious trials that come to a girl when she marries, is that she has to discharge her mother and depend upon a servant girl.

Tagging All Bases

The fond fancies and dizzy dreams of St. Louisians blazed up anew when the Browns walloped the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 2.

The New York Yankees slipped again. They had one bad inning, the sixth, when Chicago pounded out three runs and clinched the game.

Dutch Reuther again fell before the intrigue of his nemesis, the clouting Cards. Branch Rickey's bombastic batters slammed him for a bevy of base hits in the third chuckker and Reuther repaired to the club house.

The persistent Pirates stepped confidently out on the Polo grounds and slammed the world's champion Giants for 12 runs.

Ty Cobb's Tigers smashed out 18 hits and beat the Athletics, 11 to 1.

Golfer Fights for Life In Hospital

SAN JOSE, Cal., Aug. 1.—John Black, golf professional, was fighting for life today at Columbia hospital here in the same quiet manner that he fought for the recent golf title at Skokie club, Chicago. Suffering from a fractured skull, a dislocated shoulder, several broken ribs and possible internal injuries, the "old master" of golf, who was injured in an automobile accident last night which killed his friend, Herbert Hamilton Brown, wealthy insurance broker, appeared slightly improved today. Mrs. Black was at his bedside all night. The car in which Brown and Black were riding at a high speed left the road and turned over several times when Brown turned out to avoid another car.

JOHNNY MYERS TO EXCHANGE WITH YOUNG STONE

Six Bouts to Be Staged On August 8th; Speedy Battles Assured

Johnny Myers, Glendale's fireman-fighter, is to be featured in the Modern Woodmen of America boxing carnival to be staged at the Odd Fellows' hall, Broadway and Orange, a week from tonight, August 8.

Six events have been arranged for, two preliminaries and four main events, according to M. W. Young, one of the committee managing the affair. The contest will begin at 8:15, and it is promised that the bouts will be run off in snappy order.

In Young Stone of Glendale, Johnny Myers will have a formidable opponent, it is predicted. Stone is a fighter of no mean ability, it is claimed, and is in training to give Johnny the time of his life.

Lots of Experience

Johnny, however, will undoubtedly have something to say about that. He has had long experience as a welterweight fighter, and has a string of K. O.'s and less spectacular victories to his credit which would choke a fair-sized cow. His record includes these: Shine Taylor, K. O., two rounds; Art Taylor, K. O., two rounds; Battling Lewis, won in four rounds; Tony Valuszula, won in four rounds; Charlie Thomas, ditto; Russell Chambers, six rounds to a draw; Kid Grant, won in six rounds; Dusty Rhodes, ditto; John Hughes, eight rounds to a draw; Jack Levine, K. O. in two rounds; Kid Blue, K. O. in one round. This is only a small part of the list of engagements in which Johnny came out either on top or in a draw.

Unless the people of south Glendale have too many fires between now and next Tuesday, Johnny plans to be in his best form, and is now taking a stiff course of training whenever he can get any of his firemen associates to put on the gloves with him.

Plenty of Action

Another match which is attracting considerable attention from the local boxing fans is the duel to be staged between Ralph Myers, Johnny's "kid" brother, and Howard Kendig of Burbank. Kid Kendig has fought Ralph twice in the past, with rather disastrous effects to both, and resulting in one case at least in a draw.

Predictions as to the outcome of this match are floating around freely, but they seem to run both ways, with little edge on either man. One thing is sure: that if this is anything like the other two matches, it will be a "mean" affair.

Kid Essick of Glendale, the scrappy little fighter who put Tommy Morgan to rout in two rounds at the last Woodmen's match, is also scheduled to meet one Whirlwind Kelly. The Kid is clever, and under the training he is receiving from Johnny Myers, is due to make his mark in the boxing world before long, it is expected.

The other matches have not yet been announced, since the principals are to be made sure of beforehand. However, the evening will include plenty of excitement, according to the management.

Uncle Levi Zink says that to the American boy there is an awful, a majestic difference in weight between the butt end of a fishpole and a hoe handle.

Joseph P. Riley and family of 520 South Belmont street spent Sunday at the beach near Santa Monica. The day was enjoyed in a picnic on the sand.

Miss Loie Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hunt of 205 East Acacia street, and who has been ill at her home for several weeks is convalescing.

Mrs. M. L. Ogden of 501 West Colorado street has received word from her son, Rev. Glenn B. Ogden, who for the past seven years has been a missionary in India, stating that he expects to arrive the latter part of the month in the states for a year's furlough.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Doner and family, who are guests of Mrs. Doner's parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Berryman of 135 South Isabel street, left Sunday night for their home at Phoenix, Ariz. Mr. Doner is director of vocational edueducation for the state of Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Templeton of Memphis, Tenn., who have been guests of Mrs. Templeton's sister, Mrs. George C. Harris, of 1268 Mariposa street, left last week after a two months' tour of California for their home. They are planning to leave Memphis in the near future for a motor trip to Florida.

Mrs. E. B. Moore of 1259 South Maryland avenue was hostess last night at the meeting of the Nimble Finger club at her home. The evening was spent in sewing, after which refreshments of loganberry punch and wafers were served. Mrs. Moore was assisted by Mrs. Martha McCown and Mrs. Gertrude Griffin.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Johnson and daughter, Miss Frances Lyons and James Lyons left yesterday for their homes in Marshfield, Ore., after a three weeks' visit in Glendale, during which they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Endicott of 423 West Broadway and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Larson of 371 West Lexington Drive. Mr. Johnson has large lumber interests in Oregon.

Mrs. James S. Mentzer of 326 West Cypress street chaperoned a party for a week-end visit at Camp Baldy. The party included Misses Lulu and Ida Herman, Alice J. Lee and Robert Mentzer and Lawrence Braymer. They stayed in a cabin near Camp Baldy. The outing was so enjoyable that they are planning to spend the coming Saturday and Sunday at Camp Baldy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Garretson of Taft were guests over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lundregan of 308 East Maple avenue. They have come south to remain permanently and will locate at Long Beach. Other guests at the Lundregan home Sunday were Miss Mary Louise Fritz and her niece and nephew, Isabel and Edward Landon, all of the Fritz apartments in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Nellie Simpson and daughters, Winea and Loleta, of St. Helena, are guests for several weeks of Mrs. D. J. Hibben, 123 East Laurel street. Miss Winea Simpson has just graduated from Pacific Union college and will teach in Mountain View, Calif., this coming school year. Miss Loleta Simpson has just completed her academic work and anticipates starting her college course this fall.

Mrs. John Miller of 776 South San Fernando Road entertained with a dinner party at her home Sunday night announcing the engagement of her nephew, Jack Hayes Trestrail, and Marian Slocum, both of Hollywood. The guests included Miss Marian Slocum, Miss Nelle Miller, Miss Kathleen Miller, Miss Peggy Miller, Jack Hayes Trestrail, Albert Slocum, Lynville Trestrail and Everette Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bender and daughters, Katherine and Ruth of 407 Cameron Place, have returned from Visalia where they spent two very pleasant weeks as guests of their relatives, J. H. Houghman and family. They made the trip by motor with Mr. Houghman, who also returned with them. He was accompanied by his daughters Pauline and Ann Ella, and will remain here until next Monday. While at Visalia they spent a very interesting day at General Grant's park.

Glendale Personals

Mrs. Jack Eckstrand of Los Angeles was a guest Monday of Mrs. C. H. Beggs of 1107 North Louise street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Staves of Pasadena were dinner guests last evening at the P. C. Brown home at 634 North Howard street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Malone, formerly of Texas, are now located in the Brandale apartments at 716 South Brand boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Shaw of 212 West Park avenue, will leave tomorrow for San Francisco to attend the convention of the National Bar association.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bentley of 1361 North Columbus avenue are planning to spend the week-end at Big Bear lake working on their new mountain cabin.

L. G. Sherman of 316 West Lexington drive is getting along nicely at a Los Angeles hospital following the injury of his leg which resulted when he was thrown by the heavy tide at Hermosa Beach recently.

Glendale W. C. T. U. members and friends are to participate Friday in a picnic outing in Echo park. They will journey over to the park at 10 o'clock Friday morning and enjoy a picnic lunch and informal afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Schenck, who have been residing temporarily at 522 East Acacia avenue, are moving tomorrow to Hollywood. They were anxious to locate in Glendale, but were unable to find a location that suited them.

Miss Josephine MacLaren, formerly of Glendale, but now living in Flintridge, is spending the week with her school friend, Miss Dorothy Howe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Howe of 225 East Garfield avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Maxwell of 327 West Harvard street entertained very pleasantly Sunday with an informal dinner. Covers were laid for I. L. Horne and sisters, Miss Cora Horne and Mrs. Zoe Reish, Paul Reish and Miss Laura Shane, all of the Westlake section of Los Angeles.

Mrs. William E. Grigg of 319 West Wilson avenue has returned from a ten-day stay at Camp Rincon with the Yuca Encampment of Baptist young people's organizations of Los Angeles and Santa Ana. There were over 120 in attendance at the encampment.

Mrs. J. B. McClellan and daughter, Miss Anabel MacClellan of 126 North Central avenue, are planning on leaving within the next few days for their former home near Chicago, Ill., where they will spend six weeks visiting with relatives and former neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Walter Toot of Gettysburg, Pa., arrived recently in Glendale and are guests at the home of Mrs. Toots' sister, Mrs. George F. Daugherty, of 219 North Adams street. Mr. and Mrs. Daugherty are planning many motor trips for the pleasure of the visitors, who expect to spend a month here.

Mrs. J. B. Sherwood of 357 West Broadway, president, and several members of the local chapter of War Mothers, are planning to attend a silver tea on Thursday afternoon of next week at the Southwestern Museum. The affair will be conducted by the members of the Los Angeles chapter.

Mrs. Elliott C. Hensel and son, Elliott, Jr., of 339 Burchett street, arrived at home Saturday night after a pleasant two months' visit at their former home at St. Paul, Minn. Mrs. Hensel reports a summer of unusual coolness for that vicinity, and a most delightful visit, but she returned a little sooner than she had at first intended upon advice from railroad representatives who understood the strike situation.

Mrs. Clem L. V. Moore and daughter Blossom of 360 West California street returned Sunday from a two months' visit with relatives and friends in Toledo and Dayton, Ohio, and vicinity. Mrs. Moore states that they are having a very cool summer in the east. "Things are very quiet, however, and a hard winter is looked for on account of the strikes and coal situation," she said.

Miss Ruth Schindel of 434 West Doran street entertained with a dinner party recently in honor of Miss Mabel Randolph, who recently motored across country from Grinnell, Iowa. The other guests included Miss Lois Randolph, Miss Irene Schindel, Mr. and Mrs. Lowrie Kiscadden of Hollywood, Dr. R. E. Jones, Albert Allen, Robert Bradford and Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Schindel.

Glendale Realty Co. Reports Sales Active

That real estate activities for the fall season are starting with a rush is indicated in the report of P. C. Brown, sales manager for the Glendale Realty company of 131½ South Brand boulevard. Mr. Brown states that during the past two days that firm has sold the following residences:

327 West Stocker street, to Miss R. Tomlin of Altadena, who will return to Glendale after several years' absence to make her home here.

441 West Maple avenue, to J. Thrall of Pasadena, who after viewing property in southern California made Glendale his choice for a home.

515 West Elk avenue, to J. H. Kinsey, who for three years was deputy sheriff in Arizona. Mr. Kinsey arrived in Glendale yesterday morning and was so delighted with the outlook here that he purchased a house before noon of the same day.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Driving Industry Away
Costly 'Bill' Stephens
Johnson Is Telling 'Em
Will H. Hays' Views

By Gil A. Cowan

AN UNUSUAL situation arose in Eagle Rock the other day. A peddler of vacuum cleaners, taking orders for an Ohio firm, was arrested and charged with operating without a license.

Right then and there he had the laugh on the authorities. He was dealing in interstate commerce. The case was dismissed.

But had he been a Glendale merchant soliciting trade in the neighbor city he would have had to pay the license and a fine besides.

For instance, George Karr, who operates the Baldwin Shirt factory here and in Parsons, Kan., must operate from Parsons in California towns which have a license law. In the other places he sends the shirts from the local factory.

All that these rulings do, when you analyze the cause and effect, is to drive industry away from the state.

Will the people stand for such conditions?

Of course they will.

Standing for things is the public's long suit. They will sit by and watch Governor Stephens' administration spend money hand over fist—not wrongfully, probably, but lavishly.

They will stand by and see certain newspapers slander Senator Hiram Johnson who, beyond a reasonable doubt, saved this country from foreign alliances which would have caused no end of grief.

It is good that the people do vote, for the registration at the last minute was very heavy throughout the state, and they are going to bring home to the governor the necessity of the state spending less.

And they are going to emphatically endorse Senator Johnson, for his stand has been right, regardless of those who gave him support, or fell by the wayside.

The able senator, with whom I came in personal contact during the war while at Washington, will have the opportunity to answer his traducers here tomorrow night at the Glendale Union High school auditorium.

Believe me, he calls a spade a spade and makes his avowed enemies wince. He also makes the politicians who have not been fed from his hand—and we know several—run to cover and wish they were back in the fold.

At Sacramento there were more than 2000 people at the train to cheer him when he spoke for ten minutes. In other portions of the state there are thousands to vote for him.

Accounts of the meeting in Los Angeles would indicate that he will carry the southland three to one.

Not such a bad average, Senator, and I am going to find out today how San Diego is lining up—the one questionable spot in the state with the Spreckels' papers controlling the field.

Every once in a while we like some other person's viewpoint: Here is what The Star-News of Pasadena says:

"Will H. Hays, since coming to California, has been telling the public, and likewise those engaged in producing pictures, of the tremendous influence of films and has been admonishing and pledging extreme care in making pictures as to the quality of them. He impresses the fact that 20,000,000 persons daily attend the motion-picture shows. He stresses that the films are the principal amusement of the great majority of the 110,000,000 people of the United States. Mr. Hays impresses upon producers of pictures that 'just as you serve the leisure hours of the masses, so do you rivet the girders of society.'

"And expressing his broadened conception, Mr. Hays says that the motion-picture will 'go farther, not only in its influence of man upon man, but in making a complete understanding between nation and nation, than any other thing that is possible in this world.'

"A mighty influence for the fostering of world-peace the motion-picture can be and should be made. In this envisioning of the film's possibilities by Mr. Hays the public will have especial interest. It betokens a purpose to keep American films free from propaganda against or offensive to any nation or people."

Glendale Personals

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Russell of 332 North Kenwood street enjoyed a day's visit recently with Mrs. H. H. Hall of Richmond, sister of Mr. Russell, who is spending a few weeks in Los Angeles.

Samuel Dick, Jr., of 309 North Louise street, returned to Glendale last night from Imperial Valley, where he has been busy for the past two months on his brother's melon ranch near Calipatria.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Thursday Afternoon club was held recently at the home of Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, Brand boulevard and Laurel street, with Mrs. Wm. Mabry presiding. At that time reports of the various chairmen were submitted. After the business session delicious refreshments were served. The members of the ways and means committee of the club are planning to give a series of card parties during the summer for the benefit of the organization.

Deaths and Funerals

MRS. CAROLINE WEBER

Mrs Caroline Weber passed away Sunday, July 30, 1922, at 403 Cameron place at the age of 73 years. She leaves a son, V. Rapp, of the same address. Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the Holy Family Catholic church, interment at Cavalry Cemetery, Los Angeles. L. G. Scovern Undertaking company in charge.

MRS J. N. JONES

Mrs. J. N. Jones, age 61 years, passed away very suddenly at 11:50 o'clock yesterday, Monday morning, July 31, 1922, at her home, 461 West Harvard street. She leaves a husband, J. N. Jones, and a daughter, Mrs. Charles C. Buckley, of the same address. Mrs. Jones had been a resident of California the past eight years and of Glendale the past four years. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Little Church of the Flowers. L. G. Scovern Undertaking company in charge.

EDWIN BLACKFORD

Glendale friends of Edwin Blackford, formerly a resident of South Verdugo road, will be sorry to learn that his death occurred Sunday, July 23, 1922, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. G. L. Tuttle, in Glenside, Pa.

Since the death of his wife a few years ago Mr. Blackford made his home with his daughter in the east. He was past 70 years of age at the time of his death.

Mr. Blackford's body is to be brought to Glendale for funeral services and interment in Forest Lawn cemetery. However, final arrangements have not yet been made because of the railroad strike.

ALIA D. KNOX

Glendale patrons and friends of the Glendale Realty Company at 131½ South Brand boulevard, will regret to learn of the death of Alia D. Knox, who had been connected with the company since August, 1921 as salesman. His death occurred Sunday afternoon, July 30, 1922, in Eagle Rock, where he and his family had been living for three months.

Mr. Knox came to Glendale from St. Louis, Mo., and shortly after his arrival he became connected with the Glendale Realty company. He proved to be a most efficient salesman and when the company opened their branch office in Eagle Rock, Mr. Knox was put in charge.

Mr. Knox had suffered from a throat affection and it was this that caused his death. He is survived by his wife and daughter and three brothers.

Funeral services are to be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn cemetery, where the burial will take place.

In respect to Mr. Knox's memory the Glendale Realty office at 131½ South Brand boulevard is to be closed during the funeral.

Births

Mrs. C. B. Ward of 1157 Western avenue is the mother of a son born this morning, Tuesday, August 1, 1922, at the Glendale sanitarium and hospital.

CHANGE PICNIC PLACE

The picnic of the women of the Methodist church, which had been announced to take place Thursday at Echo park, will be held at Verdugo Woodlands instead. The time has been set at 10 o'clock.

Portuguese is the language of about 30,000,000 people.

Harry Girard Home, Still In Plaster Cast

Friends of Harry Girard of 245 South Orange street, who broke his hip several weeks ago by a fall on the hardwood floor of his studio at the Egan school, Los Angeles, will be pleased to learn that he is now at his home in Glendale. Mr. Girard, however, although recuperating nicely, will have to remain in a plaster cast for over three months.

Shrine Club Session Postponed to Aug. 9

The Glendale Shrine club's athletic smoker and business meeting has been postponed from Wednesday, August 2, to Wednesday, August 9. This postponement was made necessary because the hall was unobtainable for the regular date. A splendid program has been arranged for by the entertainment committee and a large attendance is urged.

Railway Heads May Agree to Settlement

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 1.—Confidence prevailed generally in cabinet circles today that this week—the seventeenth of the nation-wide coal strike, and the fifth of the railway strike—will see the passing of the grave industrial crisis which has kept the country in a ferment of uncertainty and anxiety.

Today is expected to see the wind-up of the paralyzing rail strike, with the executives of 148 railroad systems meeting in New York and leaders of 30,000 striking shop craft workers meeting in Chicago to vote upon acceptance of President Harding's peace proposals.

Acceptance of the President's program by labor will be prompt. The leaders already have agreed to it. In the meeting of the railway executives, the acceptance will not be so prompt, but it is none the less certain, according to administration spokesmen, in a position to know. They anticipate a short sharp fight against the White House program by the small group of "bitter enders" among the executives, and on the acceptance of the program by a majority of the railroad presidents acting as a unit.

Not later than Thursday morning, perhaps Wednesday morning, administration officials expect to see the 30,000 striking shop craftsmen back in the shops and beginning the repair of thousands of pieces of rolling stock laid up during the month's tie-up.

Reports that the railway presidents would accept the Harding solution of the strike "under protest" did not impress the President or his advisers today. The President believes the program he has proposed is based upon justice to both sides and to the public, and he is quite willing, it was said, to rest his case with public opinion.

Striking Shopmen Confer on Proposal

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Leaders of the striking railway shopmen assembled here this forenoon to consider the proposals made by President Harding to both the rail and union executives as a basis of settlement of the rail strike.

Belief prevailed as the union leaders, headed by B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employes' department of the American Federation of Labor, went into conference that the proposals of President Harding would be accepted on behalf of the shopmen.

President Harding's proposal for settlement of the strike reached Jewell by telegraph shortly before the convention of union executives was scheduled to open. Jewell immediately disappeared from union headquarters in company with A. O. Wharton, labor member of the United States railway labor board.

The shopmen's leader refused to comment upon the telegram from President Harding or to explain the purpose or destination of his excursion with Wharton.

Trial by jury is said to have existed in 2000 B. C.

Several Fatalities In Irish Ambuscade

DUBLIN, Aug. 1.—Eight officers and men were killed and wounded in two ambush attacks against free state troops in the region of Maryboro.

In the first ambuscade a military motor car containing a detachment of free state troops was blown up by a land mine. Captain Powell, Brigadier Grey and three others were wounded and a private was killed.

Reinforcements that were being rushed to the relief of the first detachment ran into another ambuscade. In the second attack Divisional Commandant McCurtain and Commandant Collision were killed.

Twenty-eight irregulars were captured. It is alleged that some of them carried dum-dum bullets.

Free state troops advanced their lines toward Cork, the chief stronghold of the republican irregulars.

Kilmallock, which is held by irregulars, has been surrounded by free state troops and its fall is expected hourly.

The irregular garrison in Kilmallock is reported to outnumber the free state attackers and if the latter attempt a sortie heavy fighting may follow.

Severe fighting was reported from Tipperary throughout the week-end, particularly near Golden and in the vicinity of Gashel, where the rebels have been maintaining an important headquarters post.

A free state military communique states that rebel prisoners will not be paroled in the future unless they give their word not to again engage in military activities against the Dublin government.

AT RESEARCH HOSPITAL

Miss N. Louise Coll of 232 North Louise street was operated upon this morning at the Glendale Research hospital.

A major operation was performed at the Glendale Research hospital this morning upon Mrs. Fred Ellis of 520 South San Fernando road.

Mrs. James Turner has returned to her home at 132 South Jackson street following an operation at the Glendale Research hospital.

Issues Statement On War Risk Insurance

Adjutant Joe Wilson of Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, is in receipt of a notice from California state headquarters emphasizing certain facts regarding the claiming of war risk insurance by those ex-service men who have heretofore failed to make their applications. Particular attention is called to section 309 of the act, which states that "no compensation shall be payable unless a claim therefor be filed, in case of disability, within five years after discharge or resignation from service."

This means that those who were discharged between April 6, 1917, and October 12, 1917, have the option to either apply to the Pension bureau or at the Veterans' bureau if they apply within the five years provided by law. Also, persons discharged after October 12, 1917, have no right whatever unless they make claim for compensation within five years from the date of their discharge.

The exception to this is where an ex-service man has a "certificate of injury," which must be obtained before August 9, 1922. Applications for this certificate may be made through the Los Angeles, or any local office, of the United States Veterans' bureau.

This notice concluded with the statement that "furthermore, compensation is not payable, nor will claims be received in the case of men enlisting after February 9, 1922."

Huge Property Loss From Iowa Cyclone

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Aug. 1.—Damage that will probably mount into thousands of dollars was wrought by a cyclone and hail storm that devastated an area ten miles in breadth in Butler county late last night, according to reports received here this morning. The storm, cutting a path nearly ten miles wide, destroyed hundreds of acres of standing corn, blew down wind mills, uprooted trees and destroyed many farm buildings. The hurricane was followed by a hail storm.

MODERN HOTEL IS SOON TO START AT VAN NUYS

Cat Runs Wild Biting Eight, New Roofing Rock Found Near San Fernando

Van Nuys is in a fair way to secure one of its most pressing needs—a modern, substantial, up-to-date hotel that will provide accommodations not only for permanent and transient guests but also a large commodious dining room, banquet room and attractive lobby.

Announcement of intention to start work on the building within a short time was made Monday by G. W. Clark, special representative of the Apartment Building Company of Los Angeles, who stated that the company is now negotiating for a site and has the plans drawn for a building, 50 by 140 feet in size, which will cost between $40,000 and $50,000. Two sites, both located near the center of town, are under consideration by the company and a decision will be made within the next week.

Mad Cat Killed

A large white Angora cat ran amuck in Van Nuys during the last few days, biting eight persons and a dog and when finally killed on Monday, the head was sent to a laboratory in Los Angeles where it was found that the animal had rabies.

The cat, which was owned by the Arnold family on East Leesdale street, first showed symptoms of madness on Saturday.

Ask Storm Water Funds

Delegates from Van Nuys, Mission Acres and Pacoima met Wednesday afternoon with the finance committee of the Van Nuys city council and presented a request for an appropriation to cover the necessary expense of engineering and other details in connection with the storm water control project of Pacoima Canyon waters.

Nothing definite in the way of plans for handling this work was presented at the conference, but the majority of sentiment expressed by the valley delegates favored the construction of Pacoima dam, the rip-rapping of the channel between the two Southern Pacific tracks, and a cement conduit in the lower part of the valley to carry the water into the Los Angeles river.

Blow Up Castle

A two story frame house, called the old "Spanish castle," situated about two miles from the city on the San Fernando-Sunland highway, was "blown to atoms" on Wednesday night of last week, shortly after midnight.

Discover Roofing Rock

What is pronounced by roofing rock experts of Los Angeles to be the finest roofing rock in southern California has been discovered in Wilson Canyon, six miles north of San Fernando.

Roofing experts have made samples and tested the Wilson Canyon rock and find it to be of superior grade, because of its hardness and because it does not crumble, as in the case of some other roofing rock on the market.

The discovery was made some few weeks ago, which was followed by tests by Los Angeles experts, and in consequence the quarry is to be mined and all the output for some time, if not for all time, will go to Los Angeles concerns.

The Olivene Rock Products company, composed of San Fernando people, has been organized and incorporated with a capital of $10,000.

Unions May Accept Harding's Proposal

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Ninety men, constituting the policy committee of the Federated Rail Shop Crafts unions, began arriving here for the conference today at which labor's attitude toward President Harding's plan for settlement of the rail strike will be decided.

Relief was current that the unions will vote acceptance of the plan. B. M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts, has declined to predict the action of the policy committee or to reveal the details of the plan but statements made by other leaders in union circles gave strong indication that the shopmen's leaders are favorable to the proposed terms of settlement.

Forecasts that the shopmen will agree to a basis for ending the strike gained weight through a statement made by A. O. Wharton, labor member of the United States railway labor board and former head of the shop crafts unions. Wharton led the minority of the labor board which dissented to the recent wage awards that brought on the strike.

"If either the railroad executives meeting in New York tomorrow," said Wharton, "or the shop crafts officers meeting in Chicago should reject Mr. Harding's peace proposal, that group will shoulder full responsibility for the continuation of the railway strike and all that may result therefrom."

Wharton's statement was taken as an indication that the shop crafts leaders were ready to accept the plan, thus throwing the burden of responsibility for prolonging the strike upon the railroads, if the carriers should decline to accept the president's proposals.

MAJOR OPERATION

A major operation was performed this morning upon Mrs. O. V. Olson of Berkeley at the Glendale sanitarium and hospital.

TUJUNGA SCHOOL BOND VOTE IS UNANIMOUS

Baseball Diamond Is Being Improved; Hold Dance; Pave Burbank Street

Seventy-eight for and none against was the vote on the question of bonding the Tujunga school district in the sum of $5000 for school building purposes. This is the second bond election that has carried in this district without a dissenting vote, and it seems to demonstrate the desire of the people of Tujunga to provide the best school facilities their resources will allow.

The school trustees announced before the election that if the bonds carried the money would be used to build the first unit of a permanent building at the Pine and El Centro site, and they moved up on this plan by engaging H. M. Banfield to prepare a sketch of the complete building and working plans for the unit which is to be erected now.

The official canvass of the election returns cannot be made until next Monday, and after that the bonds must be advertised and sold. In order to save time, however, the drawing of the plans will not be delayed At best it will be impossible to have the new building ready for use until well on toward Christmas.

Erect Ball Park

The old baseball diamond in the western part of Monte Vista park at Sunland is being developed into a regular baseball park—all except the high board fence and box office.

Seventy-two feet of bleachers have been built under the big oak trees where fans may watch the game in comfort, and 160 feet of benches have been placed along the base lines. The old backstop, which was 10 by 16 feet, has been replaced by a new one 16 by 36 feet, and the diamond has been put in good condition.

While the improvements are being financed by the Tujunga Valley ball team the members do not claim exclusive rights to use the diamond. Manager Kimpel says any organization that desires to put on a game is welcome to do so and he will be glad to help arrange dates so there will be no conflict.

Sunland Dance

A baseball players' dance will be given on Saturday night, August 5, at Rice's dance pavilion at the park in Sunland and promises to be a "humdinger."

Pave Burbank Street

The contract for the improvement of Providencia avenue, Burbank, was let to Hugh Cornwall and John W. Henderson as the lowest bidders, at the Tuesday night meeting of the board of trustees. Their bid was $21,558.60. The work will commence in about thirty days or as soon as the details as required by law are complied with. This street is to be paved from the boulevard to Tenth street.

BUT THERE AREN'T MANY

St. Peter was examining a newly arrived immigrant seeking entrance. He had given his occupation as editor and publisher. Following is a transcript of the testimony:

Q.: "Ah, yes—of the world's greatest newspaper?"

A.: "No, sir, just a common rag."

Q.: "Circulation the largest in your city?"

A.: "No, sir; oh, no indeed! One of the smallest in the country."

"You'll do," said St. Peter. "Pick your harp."

On motion of Councilman Kimlin, the following ordinance was presented, read and laid over, "An ordinance regulating the parking of vehicles on the streets and alleys of the city of Glendale."

On motion of Councilman Kimlin, the following ordinance was presented, read and laid over, "An ordinance calling a special election to be held in the city of Glendale on the 29th day of August, 1922, and submitting to the qualified voters of said city certain propositions of incurring indebtedness and issuing bonds therefor."

Resolutions Adopted

On motion of Councilman Stephenson, the following resolution was adopted as Resolution No. 1616. "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale that the public interest and necessity demand the acquisition, construction and completion by the city of Glendale of the following municipal improvement and demand the expenditure for municipal purposes of said city of the estimated cost, as hereinafter stated, of said improvement, which improvement is described as follows: An addition to the present city hall of the city of Glendale and the necessary furniture and equipment therefor. That the estimated cost of said municipal improvement is $40,000, and said estimated cost is and will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said city and the expenditure thereof cannot be provided for out of the ordinary revenue of said city."

On motion of Councilman Kimlin, the following resolution was adopted as Resolution No. 1615, "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale that the public interest and necessity demand the acquisition, construction and completion by the city of Glendale of the following municipal improvement and demand the expenditure for municipal purposes of said city of the estimated cost, as hereinafter stated, of said improvement, which improvement is described as follows: The improvement of streets (including the installation therein of water pipes and appurtenances for fire protection and the municipal water supply) adjacent to public school property and other public property in the city of Glendale. That the estimated cost of said municipal improvement is $35,000 and said estimated cost is and will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said city and the expenditure thereof cannot be provided for out of the ordinary revenue of said city."

On motion of Councilman Lapham, the following resolution was adopted as Resolution No. 1614. "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale that the public interest and necessity demand the acquisition, construction and completion by the city of Glendale of the following municipal improvement and demand the expenditure for municipal purposes of said city of the estimated cost, as hereinafter stated, of said improvement, which improvement is described as follows: The acquisition of land in the city of Glendale and the construction and completion thereon of buildings with sanitary equipment and facilities, commonly known as public comfort stations. That the estimated cost of said municipal improvement is $25,000 and said estimated cost is and will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said city and the expenditure thereof cannot be provided for out of the ordinary revenue of said city."

Adjourned.

Chicago Street Car Men Tie Up Railways

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Chicago's street and elevated railway lines were idle today in one of the most complete local transportation tie-ups in the history of the city.

Approximately 20,000 trainmen went on strike at 4 o'clock this morning, bringing to a climax a situation that has been moving toward a walkout for several weeks.

Thousands of Chicagoans were walking to work this morning, rode in trucks, automobiles, taxicabs or suburban trains on steam roads. The strike also witnessed the reappearance on the streets of thousands of bicycles, long fallen to disuse.

The strike is in protest against wage reductions ordered by the traction companies to re-establish the nine-hour day.

Hardly had the cars stopped running when moves for a settlement of the controversy were under way. The state board of arbitration met in the city council chamber to consider ways of bringing about an adjustment.

One of the most serious phases of the situation arose from the report that thousands of strike-breakers already had been colonized at various sections of the city and were preparing to make attempts to operate cars. It was said that one of the best known directors of strike-breakers in the country had assembled crews ao take over operation of the cars whenever so ordered by traction officials.

Officials of the companies said that no attempt would be made to run cars for the present, but declared that cars must be operated sooner or later and it is necessary to take some steps to determine how this should be done.

HAS TONSILS REMOVED

Miss Aileen Rich of 318 West Cypress street this morning had her tonsils removed at the Glendale sanitarium and hospital.

Steamers Crash; 2 Women Believed Lost

NEW YORK, Aug. 1. — Two women were knocked overboard and a score of other passengers were hurt today when the excursion boat Grand Republic crashed into an Erie ferryboat in the North river.

When the crash came women began to scream and several fainted when they saw the two go overboard from the Grand Republic. Ferryboat deck hands immediately plunged into the water in an attempt to rescue the women, but it is believed that both were drowned.

MATTISON B. JONES GETS HELP FROM LOCAL FRIENDS

Glendale People Meet and Form Organization for Aid of Candidate

similiar Jones for Governor clubs in surrounding communities.

An effort will be made to hold a mass meeting at as early a date as possible and secure a number of able speakers to address the gathering. It is planned to have every Democrat in Glendale visited and ask them to enroll as members of the Jones for Governor club and the secretary was instructed to secure the names of every registered Democrat in Glendale.

Going On Trip North

Owing to Mr. Jones having to leave for San Francisco in about a week he will be unable to address any meetings here or anywhere in the southland for the next two weeks, it was announced, as he will be in the north for that length of time bolstering up his support in that section where he is not so well known. It is planned, however, to have Mr. Jones make his initial speech in Southern California here at Glendale, his home town, about August 20.

When the organization gets the campaign quarters open here, precinct captains will be named for each district and in addition to those present last night at the meeting the names of the following were handed in to be placed on the list of additional vice presidents:

Miss Myrtle Baldwin, Frank Balthis, Jr., Dr. Laura Brown, J. M. Blankenship, Frank Booth, E. H. Botsford, Paul C. Butterfield, Mrs. Helen Campbell, Mrs. James Conner, John Everson, David Francy, Chas. B. Guthrie, Mrs. Dora Gibson, Dr. H. R. Harrower, Francis J. W. Henry, Chas. W. Houston, Thos. Hutchinson, Dr. Kaemmerling, C. W. Ingledue, Mrs. Freeman Kelley, W. B. Kelly, W. B. Kirk, Julius Kranz, Mrs. Marie V. Larkey, Mr. Matthews, Jas. McBryde, Mrs. Alex Mitchell, Geo. A. Montgomery, Clem Moore, Mrs. Geo. Moyse, Jas. Neill, O. M. Newby, Mrs. C. E. Norton, Stephen C. Packer, W. K. Parkinson, Phillip Parker, J. W. Pearson, W. S. Rattray, John M. Ray, Mrs. Nathan Rigdon, Warren Roberts, Spencer Robinson J. F. Stanford, Clyde Seal, Miss Elizabeth Smith (assistant secretary), Dwight W. Stephenson, Cameron D. Thom, Tom C. Thornton, John W. Usilton, O. E. Von Oven, T. W. Watson, Richardson D. White, Edwin F. Kulp.

Praise for Candidate

A press committee was also named by the president and the meeting was adjourned until called by the chair at a date to be named later. Subscriptions were then started by W. B. Kelly who made the first contribution to Treasurer Barry and the audience was invited to give what financial assistance it could toward the program.

In a speech made at the opening of the meeting, W. B. Kirk, who was named temporary chairman by Alex Mitchell, declared that every one in Glendale regardless of their party affiliations should get behind their home town candidate and make every effort to have a governor elected from this city. Glendale should be greatly honored, he said, to have such a candidate running from this town whose slogan is "lower taxes and enforcement of the law," two points which every resident of California is vitally interested in.

While the nominating committee were out selecting permanent officers, Col. Tom C. Thornton addressed the gathering stating that the time has come when we are face to face with a crisis in which "we must all vote for the best man" and he could see no reason why Jones was not the best man running for the governorship.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.—Advertisement.

English War Debts Cannot Be Cancelled

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Great Britain today dispatched notes to her various allied debtors announcing that the British government is willing to accept reduced reparations from Germany, but cannot cancel war debts owing to Great Britain while the United States is justifiably asking for payment of the money owed to her by Britain.

Growth of the News Is Due to Merit— People Demand It

The steady growth of The Glendale Evening News is to a great extent due to the fact that from its beginning as a daily newspaper the management realized that the public subscribed to a newspaper for NEWS. That bombastic, untruthful advertising, insidious propaganda or FREE circulation could not build a truly successful newspaper.

Therefore, every effort has been made to correctly chronicle the local news, furnish a complete, concise and dependable telegraphic service and add attractive, interesting features as fast as conditions would warrant.

That such methods are succeeding is proven by the consistent increase of the bona fide circulation and advertising.

The Evening News stands on its own merits as a daily newspaper, is not given away with, enclosed in, wrapped about or in any way connected with any Los Angeles newspaper.

MARSHALL NEILAN PRODUCTION NOW AT T. D. & L.

'Fools First' Is Latest Film Being Offered by Noted Picture Producer

The popularity of Marshall Neilan, the motion picture producer, and the invariable success of all the pictures made by this wizard of the screen are responsible for the extensive preparations being made by Manager Ralph Allan of the T. D. & L. theatre for the opening today of a three-day engagement of "Fools First," the latest Neilan production. It is an Associated First National release.

There is a novelty about Neilan productions, which endear them to the hearts of picture lovers. No two are alike; each succeeding one strikes a new note in story, direction or acting, imparting a flavor of originality that makes a distinct hit with the fans.

The cast is an exceptionally capable one, including Richard Dix, Claire Windsor, Claude Gillingwater, Raymond Griffith, George Seigman, Helen Lynch, Shannon Day, George Dromgold, Leo White, Harold Goodwin, Bobby Furer, E. Villi, Clyde McCoy, William Irving, Theodore Van Eltz, Fred Kelsey, William Machin, George Hernandez, Charles French, Monte Collins, George Barnum, Carrie Clark Warde, Robert Brower, Jack Duffy and Hazel Keener.

Business Women to Change Club Rooms

At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Business and Professional Women's club, of which Dr. Laura Brown is president, to be held tonight, the final details will be arranged for changing the club headquarters from its present location in the Coker & Taylor building to 126 South Maryland avenue. A special meeting of the board was held yesterday noon accepting the recommendation to lease the seven-room house at 126 South Maryland avenue, which has just been vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hall. It is anticipated that the club will move to the new location the latter part of the week, or as soon as the house is made ready.

It may be all right to follow the crowd, but it's a might poor way to get to the front.

SENATOR JOHNSON HAS SUPPORT OF WAR VETERANS

Disabled Soldiers Appreciate Efforts of Californian In Their Behalf

THURSDAY

Santa Paula, luncheon and noon meeting.
Ventura, afternoon.
Santa Barbara, Potter theatre, evening.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1.—That the disabled soldiers and other ex-service men of California are rallying to the support of Senator Hiram W. Johnson and high officials of the American Legion are officially commending the senator because of his activity favoring soldier legislation is the statement of Leo D. Daze, prominent Los Angeles attorney and war veteran. Mr. Daze formerly was commander of Victory Post No. 54, American Legion of Los Angeles, and also former commander of the county council of the American Legion, comprising the thirty-seven Legion posts in Los Angeles county.

"The disabled soldiers and war veterans as a whole have an ardent friend in Senator Johnson, "declared Attorney Daze, when he learned that John Thomas Taylor, vice chairman of the national legislative committee of the American Legion, now in Washington, had written a highly commendatory letter to Senator Johnson in appreciation of his support of the Legion relative to the adjusted compensation bill.

"Senator Johnson has been instrumental in the passage of several bills beneficial to ex-service men, and has been one of the foremost champions of the soldier bonus bill," continued Attorney Daze. "It was Senator Johnson who was successful in compelling the return of the American troops from the bleak steppes of Siberia, and he hastened the return of the American forces from the occupational region in Germany after the armistice.

Gives Three Reasons

"Here are several reasons why I would personally like to see Senator Johnson re-elected:

"First: His splendid characteristics as a fearless and energetic representative of the people, and not favoring special interests.

"Secondly: As one who has been active in the affairs of war veterans, I am deeply interested in adjusted compensation for those who returned disabled, either physically or financially, and, consequently, am proud of Senator Johnson for the manner in which he has assisted us in our fight for legislation on adjusted compensation.

"Third: The senator's accomplishments, during the past six years in Washington, should win the support and admiration of every true Republican. A fighter for a fighter every time."

PROBE MYSTERY DEATH

LONG BEACH, Calif., Aug. 1.—While preparations were being made to hold a post mortem examination on the body of Mrs. May Dyer English, bride of three weeks, who was believed to have died from the effects of poisoning, local police detectives today planned to grill William English, youthful husband of the dead girl who is being held in the city jail.

ROLIN COMEDY

"FRIDAY THE 13th"

Dramatic Program Proves Delightful

Students at the Emerson School of Self-Expression at 730 South Glendale avenue last night presented a very enjoyable program of music, readings and nature dances before an audience that filled the rooms.

This was the final recital of the series and marked the closing of the summer term.

Five boys were entered in a reading contest, on which a vote was taken by ballot, by the audience, the result not to be announced to the contestants until Friday at the official closing of the summer term.

In the nature dances, Eunice Beere, in the Dance of Dawn, was graceful and pretty in a costume of green with a rainbow scarf, and Mahala Wichert, in Pipes of Pan, equally pleasing in pretty wood browns and leaf green with a dainty garland. Charles Sawhill, age 6, in fringe and headdress, entertained with a war dance. A piano solo by Guerdon Wattles, humorous readings by Elsie Whitney, Marcella Nelson, Evelyn Peebles, Doris Ashe, Wayne Nelson, Charles Sawhill, Bill, Bob and Jim Rhodes, gave pleasure to the hearers.

Adult students appearing were Mrs. King, in pianologue, "Out To Old Aunt Mary's" (Riley) with accompaniment by Mrs. Labadie, and "The Stray Kitten" by Dr. Pearl Anderson. The closing number, a farce, "Fast Friends," was very cleverly interpreted by Doris and Virginia Ashe, included in this number were two very pretty classic dances.

Mrs. Verna Mitchell, of the faculty, was impresario for the evening.

A social hour followed the close of the program, and light refreshments were served, with Miss Lillian Litch, piano teacher of the school, presiding at the punchbowl, assisted by the students. The school will not open until September.

Free State Troops Capture Tipperary

DUBLIN, Aug. 1.—Free state troops in their drive southward on Cork have captured Tipperary and Kilkee, it was announced today. Four regulars were killed in action at Tipperary and three others wounded. The casualties of the irregulars are not known

Several irregulars were prisoners. Large quantities of war materials fell into the hands of the free staters.

YOUR BEST FRIEND IS PICTURIZED AT GLENDALE

Vera Gordon In 'Mother' Role Is Declared to Be at Her Highest

Who is your best friend? Vera Gordon answers it in her new "mother" film, "Your Best Friend," to be shown at the Glendale theatre tonight and Wednesday and Thursday. Vera Gordon is one of the best known portrayers of mother roles on the screen and in her latest picture she is said to be at her very best.

The plot is woven about a son who married a society crazed girl without his mother's knowledge. He brings her quite unexpectedly to his home, and the mother in welcoming her with open arms notes the aloofness and cold stare of the girl at the furnishings of the modest home. The ambitious son takes his mother to live in an apartment on upper West End, an exclusive residential section. Here the mother sees her hard-earned cash being squandered by her daughter-in-law and mother, who revel in gay parties and social teas.

Worth Appreciated

During the remainder of this film Miss Gordon is made to suffer all the pangs of a mother who lives mainly to see that her two sons are happy. Her true worth is finally appreciated, and in the course of this appreciation a wonderfully human interest drama is unfolded.

Miss Gordon is supported by Belle Bennett, Harry Benham, Dore Davidson, Beth Mason and Stanley Price.

K. K. K. Girls Club Guests at Social

Miss Dora Wainwright of 372 West Doran street was a charming hostess last night to the members of the K. K. K. girls' club and their friends. The rooms presented an Oriental effect with the lights shaded with Japanese lanterns of green and gold, which are the club colors. The evening was devoted to various games, with Japanese rice cakes and ice tea served at intervals. The club colors appeared in the refreshments of ice-cream and cake served at the close of the evening. Twenty-four guests were present. Miss Wainwright was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Wainwright.
